

LIVING COST WILL MOUNT 11 PER CENT

Sec. Wallace Prophet; Economist Says Cost Must Be Reduced

Washington, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Food prices, Secretary Wallace says, probably will climb 11 per cent during the first half of 1935 even if there is no recurrence of drought.

The agricultural department head made this prediction late yesterday at a press conference. Just previously, the weather bureau had reported continued dry weather in large portions of five states which were affected by last summer's drought.

Though Dr. Mordica Ezeziel, economic adviser to Wallace, said most of the increases were due to drought, Wallace said "I think the AAA had something to do with it."

Wallace based his forecast of rising food prices on estimates prepared by Dr. Louis H. Beann, AAA economic adviser. During the latter half of this year, prices 12 per cent above those during the last six months of 1934 were predicted.

Wallace said meat costs were the main factor in the rise of food prices. They were said to be 32 percent above the level recorded during the last half of 1934.

Economists in the agriculture department meanwhile expressed fear that crop production this year will be affected drastically by severe dust storms in portions of the west, lack of subsoil moisture in some areas and damage threatened by chinch bugs and other insects.

HAS PROLONGED DEPRESSION

Urbana, Ill., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Commodity prices will come down, believes Paul D. Converse, professor of marketing at the University of Illinois, before the depression takes its long-awaited departure.

Tampering with the price system, this economist contends, has prolonged the depression to such extent that purchasing power and national morale are "sadly depleted."

The current slump, Prof. Converse says, is in striking contrast to the last major depression in 1920-22, when the price level fell 44 per cent in one year.

In the decline which started in 1929, prices diminished so gradually that three years elapsed before the price level fell 36 per cent, Converse says. Even today, the price level is from 10 to 30 per cent higher than the average during the past 100 years, he points out.

Not Allowed to Operate
"Let prices perform their intended purpose," Converse advises. "Prices are supposed to adjust the demand and supply. The trouble is not with the price system, but with the fact that it has not been allowed to operate freely."

Prof. Converse used the agriculture situation as an example and said industry could take a lesson from it.

"Farm products are sold on open and free markets where prices are determined by the free play of demand and supply. During the past decade, farm income and the income of industrial workers have moved together. Farm employment was maintained. If the income of industrial workers had been larger, the prices of farm products would have been higher."

Lesson Is Clear
"The lesson is clear. Industry should keep up production and sell its products on open and free markets. We live under a price economy and yet many sellers appear blind to this fact."

"We cannot raise the standard of living or restore prosperity by curtailing production. Let us maintain production and sell the output on the open and free markets. Prices will thus enable consumption to be maintained and this in turn will support employment."

Drowned Indianan's $2,000 Ring Object of Search in Peoria

Richmond, Ind., Feb. 28.—(AP)—A body found in the Illinois river near Peoria, Feb. 22 was identified today as that of Charles H. Lair, 60, by Sarah Davis of this city. She made the identification through luggage which she said she had loaned him last November for a trip in search of work. PEORIA JEWELRY CO. ROBBERS GET $15,000 IN GEMS

Kidnap Window Washer Who Tries to Halt Their Escape

Peoria, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Two men robbed the Kennedy Jewelry Company's loop store of $15,000 in gems shortly after the place opened for business today, and kidnapped a window washer who tried to prevent their escape.

Police squad cars equipped with two-way radio pursued the robbers and their victim.

The men entered the store just after it opened and forced William H. Faber, store optician, to unlock the counters and then to open the safe. They scooped up unset diamonds from a tray and then bound and gagged Faber.

As the robbers were leaving the store, Steve Wielnitowicz, window washer lunged at them. They seized Wielnitowicz and threw him into their car before speeding away.

Faber, who witnessed the abduction, wriggled along the floor to the front door until he attracted attention of passersby, who called police. Faber said he was unable to give a good description of the robbers.

GERMANS STAGE APPEAL IN NEW YORK FOR BRUNO

Raise $2,000 as Attorney Repeats Statement of Innocence

BULLETIN

Boston, Feb. 28.—(AP)—A wall of secrecy and denial today surrounded rumors that Lindbergh ransom money had been passed recently in Boston.

Federal authorities here declined to comment on the discovery of a $10 and a $20 gold certificate in the bank account of the American Airlines, Inc. Air line officials here, however, admitted that two gold certificates had been found in their deposit of Feb. 23 with the State Trust Co.

David E. Hersee, vice-president of the bank, belittled the rumor that the notes were ransom money. Although unable to give the series numbers of the notes, he explained, the bank's account with the Federal Reserve bank in Boston had been cleared on Feb. 25. No Federal investigators had requested knowledge of the source of the bills, he said, therefore leading him to believe the notes could not have been part of the ransom money.

Hersee said gold certificates were not uncommon in deposits. The two notes deposited by the American Airlines, he said, were discovered by a teller in the Copely Squad branch of the trust company.

The bank officials said he was certain that if the notes had been part of the ransom money the Federal Reserve bank or the Treasury department would have requested their source.

New York, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Bruno Hauptmann's defense fund was richer today by more than $2,000, the contribution of thousands of wildly enthusiastic Germans who stormed a rally in his behalf.

Their donation will be added to the $15,000 previously raised to appeal the carpenter's conviction on a charge of killing the Lindbergh baby, who was stolen from his crib three years ago tomorrow.

State Insurance Director Seeks Greater Regulatory Control Over Small Loan Companies in Illinois

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Ernest Palmer, state insurance director, today sponsored bills to give him greater regulatory control over small loan companies.

Introduced in house and senate, the bills would retain the present 3 1-2 per cent maximum interest rate on loans of $100 or less, but the interest would be 2 1-2 per cent between $100 and $300. Small loan companies would be required to accept advance payments made in an effort to reduce interest payments.

The insurance department would have power to issue rules and regulations, supervise advertising, revoke licenses and prevent changes in locations.

For Income Tax
Rep. Clinton Searle, Rock Island Republican, proposed a one per cent tax on gross incomes, which he estimated would yield $1,000,000,000 a year, to be used as a replacement for all real estate and personal property taxes.

Searle also introduced a bill to repeal the sales tax and said he would submit other measures to abolish all "nuisance taxes," letting the gross income levy pay all governmental costs.

The gross income tax Searle declared, would reduce by 75 per cent the tax bills of property owners.

Other bills in the house include: By Allen—To permit municipalities to issue non-referendum bonds to replace special assessment funds lost in closed banks.

By Lottie Hollman O'Neill—To permit local option on a county-wide basis.

By Heckenkamp—To permit only two foxes to be killed daily.

By Mcweeney—To repeal the provision that a guest in an automobile can recover damages.

TWO IDENTIFIED BANDIT SLAYERS IN OTTAWA CASE

Eye Witnesses Slaying of Banker Took Stand Today

Ottawa, Ill., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Two more witnesses to the slaying of J. Charles Bundy, Leona Bundy bank cashier, accused Fred Gerner and Arthur Thielen from the witness stand today as the pair stood trial for their lives.

James Adamson, 77, testified that he saw an automobile containing three members of the band of four who had just raided the Leona Bundy State bank pass Bundy and Charles Seipp, a county supervisor, who had Thielen, fourth member of the robber band, in custody.

Fired from Auto
The three in the automobile fired on Bundy and Seipp, Adamson said, and Thielen, who had been walking ahead of the pair with his hands raised, drew a gun and fired on Seipp, who was running for cover.

James Adamson, Jr., who followed his father to the stand, said he was present at Thielen's capture and also when the three men fired on Bundy and Seipp. The younger Adamson said Thielen called to the men in the automobile:

"Blackie! Blackie! Let them have it."

With that, Adamson testified, the three men started firing.

One of the band, John Hauff, has pleaded guilty to a charge of murder. The fourth member killed himself before capture.

With this fine record Amboy will be accompanied by a strong following in the tournament games in which they will appear at the high school here next week.

Local Trapper Gets Two Fine Grey Foxes

Earl Helfrich, residing east of Dixon, captured two fine specimens of grey fox this morning while running his trap line on the George Miller farm on the River road in the Bend. Going over his traps, which have been covered with ice and snow for the past few days, he took one fox early this morning, which he brought to Dixon and sold. Returning home, he recalled one trap which he had not inspected and on investigation, found another large female grey fox which had been snared during the night. Both foxes were trapped in an open corn field on the Miller farm.

Washington, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Former Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, who retired from active service on the bench a few years ago, was declared today by his attending physician, Dr. Thomas A. Clayton, to be seriously ill at his residence in this city.

Long an outstanding figure in American jurisprudence, Holmes delivered his last opinion on January 11, 1932, after 29 years of service on the supreme court bench.

Since that time he has lived in quiet seclusion in his residence here. On March 9 the aged jurist will be 94 years old.

Honolulu Floods Claim Fifth Life

Honolulu, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Floods sweeping Oahu Island claimed a fifth life here today when an explosion killed a Japanese woman and injured six other persons.

Flood waters caused the explosion of a gas main, fatally injuring Mrs. Nobu Yoshikawa, 45, critically injuring three others and less seriously hurting three more.

Previously four persons were drowned and four others reported missing when the river was sent on a rampage by a sudden cloud-burst which damaged many houses and three days of rain.

As Baia was brought before Judge Feinberg for sentencing, he told a tale, which amazed court and prosecutors, of his operations and their associates.

DEMOCRATS URGE INCREASED SALES MOTOR FUEL TAX

House Leader Introduced Bills Providing for Higher Levies

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Legislative indecision as to relief financing today found the house wrangling over when it should act on proposals to add another cent to the sales and gasoline taxes.

Hope of focusing bipartisan support on a definite revenue program was finally abandoned by the executive committees, whose major accomplishment was to discard the possibility of another relief bond issue.

Struggling to get action, Executive Chairman F. W. Lewis of Robinson introduced five house bills designed to raise unemployment funds, but Republicans insisted that proposals to curtail authority of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission be considered at the same time.

The bills introduced by Lewis and placed on first reading late yesterday were:

For Increased Taxes.
1. To increase the retail sales tax from two to three percent from March 15 to July 1, 1937, bringing in an estimated $20,000,000 in additional funds each year.

2. To increase the motor fuel tax from three to four cents a gallon during the same period, yielding about $10,000,000 yearly.

3. To place all utility companies under the sales tax at the proposed three percent rate, a potential source of from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000.

4. To broaden the sales tax base to provide a three percent levy on the privilege of engaging in several dozen occupations and professions, the specific details to be revised at the amendment stages.

5. To appropriate $7,500,000 to the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, enough to pay the state's share of the unemployment bills until July 1.

Other Bills Expected.
Other bills are expected to be tossed in, providing for a corporation excise levy and a tax on cigarettes and other tobaccos as other means of raising the needed $3,000,000 monthly relief.

Governor Horner, who held a series of conferences with the executive committees, made no statement as the sessions broke up with leaders of both parties declaring that virtually nothing had been accomplished.

"We are simply going to put in various bills to try to get some action," said Rep. Thomas P. Sinnott, Rock Island Democrat.

The "reorganization before refinancing" slogan was taken up by Republicans who protested that the relief set-up should be changed.

Governor Is Busy: Budget Is Delayed

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 28.—(AP)—The biennial budget is on Governor Horner's desk, Finance Director K. L. Ames, Jr., said today, and will be sent to the legislature for consideration as soon as the Governor gets time to look it over.

Inquiry about the budget was made by the Republican Senate caucus, which pointed out that the law requires that the estimates on the state's biennial receipts and expenditures be submitted within four weeks after the General Assembly organized.

Ames announced that he prepared the budget, but that the Governor's time has been occupied by relief and other issues.

HINT SABOTAGE IN FAILURE OF PLANE'S ENGINE

Foreign Substance Found in Motor of Post's Airship

BULLETIN.

Kansas City, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Wiley Post charged today that nearly two pounds of steel filings and powdered emery were placed in the engine of his airplane, probably at the instigation of "another pilot," to cause the failure of his recent projected stratosphere flight across the continent.

Post, here enroute to New York, did not name the pilot but said he had enough evidence to the alleged sabotage to convince him the foreign matter was placed in the engine of the Winnie Mae deliberately.

The Oklahoman said the substances caused the engine to overheat dangerously after he had been in the air less than 50 minutes. He made a forced landing, with a full load of gasoline and without landing gear, in the bed of Muroc dry lake in California.

"Laboratory tests disclosed the presence of the emery and filings in the oils," Post said, referring to an investigation now underway in Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Possible sabotage in the preparation of Wiley Post's plane for his latest stratosphere hop was hinted today as laboratory analysis was being made of a "damaging substance" found in the motor of the "Winnie Mae".

The noted round-the-world flier was forced down an hour after he left here last Friday on an intended stratosphere flight to New York. He declined to make a direct statement as to how the substance might have come to be in the engine, but he was quoted by officials of the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, the makers of the plane, as regretting it, "if it is found true that anyone had deliberately attempted to ruin" the engine.

The discovery, announced yesterday, has not been reported to authorities and it was indicated no investigation would be requested.

Engine Builder Talks
Palmer Nichols, president of a corporation selling Pratt & Whitney engines, the type used in Post's plane, issued the following statement:

"Upon disassembly of Wiley Post's engine, we found a foreign substance in the intake manifold, the air coolers between the supercharger and the engine, the oil screen and in the oil.

"This substance apparently caused excessive wear on the pistons, cylinder walls and blower section.

"A laboratory analysis is being made to determine the nature of the substance."

No Leak Discovered
After Post had been forced down at Muroc dry lake on the Mojave desert, he said he believed there was a leak in the oil system. No leak was discovered, but the presence of the foreign substance was brought to light.

The engine had not been completely overhauled since Post came here in January to prepare for the flight, it apparently being in good condition.

Post had dropped his landing gear in the flight and a forced landing on the "belly" of the ship anywhere except on a smooth field might have proved dangerous.

Amazing Tale of 'Uncanny Scheme' in High Finance Wins Its Relator Prison Term of One to Ten Years

Chicago, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Joseph Baia was under sentence of one to ten years today for embezzling $55,000 from a loan bank as a part of an alleged plot to loot the treasuries of two financial institutions, including an insurance company.

Baia was sentenced by Judge Michael Feinberg of the criminal court who branded a confession by Baia as an "uncanny scheme" after the court had declared a mistrial for Dave Barry, fight referee, and Abraham Karatz, both of whom were accused of being involved in the embezzlement. Sudden illness of Barry's attorney ended the trial. The case, however, is to be retried.

EL PASO, TEXAS IN GRIP OF BIG POWERWALKOUT

Population of 200,000 Feel Effects of Power House Strike

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 28.—(AP)—A power strike gripped El Paso today paralyzing many public utilities and 27 suburban communities with an aggregate population of 200,000.
At 1:30 A. M., CST, striking employees pulled switches and walked out of the central power plant of the El Paso Electric Company.
W. L. Ingram of Fort Worth, president of the International Brotherhood of Electric Workers, said 150 men were striking. Company sources said 450 other employees were not involved in the strike.
In several instances emergency power units were mobilized from Port Bliss. Hospitals improvised candles from twisted gauze.
The absence of power temporarily affected the pumping of water to the municipal water works, but officials reported an ample water supply in the reservoir. Across the border in Juarez, Mexico, equipment cast aside many years ago was utilized to meet the emergency.
Ingram said differences between the power company and union members had existed since last August and the strike was called for recognition of the union, increased pay, and changed working conditions. No statement was immediately available from power company officials.

What about the presidency? he was asked. "Aren't you going to run for that?"
"That comes later," Long said, smiling broadly.

PHONE RECORD PLAGUES MIKE, ALIAS "PRINCE"

Shows He Phoned Alleged "Framers" of Mrs. Wilma E. Gould

New York, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Mrs. Wilma E. Gould, who accuses "Prince Michael Romanoff" of "framing" her to give divorce evidence to her husband, plagued him today with telephone slips.

These slips, charged to a room occupied by Prince Mike at the Hotel Savoy-Plaza, were offered to a jury as evidence that the bogus prince was in communication with the men Mrs. Gould names in her $500,000 damage action.

Mike's role in the alleged frame-up, Mrs. Gould says, was that he drugged her, took her to his apartment, disrobed her and admitted a raiding party led by her husband, Edward Gould, Seneca, N. Y., manufacturer.

Others Named
In her conspiracy action, Mrs. Gould names her brother-in-law, former Representative Norman J. Gould; Elwood W. Kent, Jr., a lawyer, and Gerard Luisi, head of a detective agency.

Evidence offered in the telephone slips purported to show that Prince Mike had been in communication with the offices of both Kent and Luisi during the days he was paying most assiduous court to Mrs. Gould.

One slip recorded a call made from the room occupied by Prince Mike—whose real name is Harry Gerguson—at 10:41 P. M. of Feb. 10, 1931, the night Gould and others burst in upon him and Mrs. Gould.

This, and other slips, were identified by Helen Roach, supervisor of telephone operators at the Savoy Plaza.

NEW DEAL LEGAL FORCES PREPARE FOR LIFE FIGHT

ed theory" of constitutional law.

Most new deal lawyers pinned their hopes for an ultimate NRA victory on the power given congress to regulate interstate commerce by this section of the constitution.

The congress shall have power x x x to regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several states and with the Indian tribes.

Although the government failed to convince Judge Fields that manufacturing is a step in interstate commerce, NRA's legal chief evidenced confidence that the supreme court will rule differently.

Speculation On Hill
There was speculation on Capitol Hill as to the possible effect of the decisions on renewal of NRA, in line with President Roosevelt's desires, and on demands in the senate for one big investigation of the recovery administration before any new law is enacted.

The blows against regulation of industry came at a time when the New Deal was busy defending itself against formidable legal threats in several quarters.

Judge W. I. Grubb of Alabama recently provided material for an early supreme court test on NRA, and also has ruled that the government has no right to sell surplus electricity developed by its plants in the Tennessee Valley.

PLACING RUTH IN LINEUP IS VEXING PILOT

Bambino Wants To Get Into Lineup as New First Sacker

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 28.—(AP)—There's one major problem concerning Babe Ruth that worries Bill McKechnie, manager of the Braves, now that he's acquired the greatest slugger in baseball history. What position will the Bambino play?

It's an open secret that Ruth, who started as a left hand pitcher, developed into a great defensive outfielder as well as a pulverizing clouter, always has longed to play first base.

But for the fact that the Yankees boast one of the greatest of all first basemen in Lou Gehrig, the Babe might have wound up his playing days in New York, nursing his failing legs at the first corner.

"We'll talk it over when he gets here," Bill says, "and if he wants to play first, we'll certainly try it out."

"But what will I do with Baxter Jordan, one of the best hitters on the club, a fine first baseman who improved at least 25 per cent last season? He's too good to leave on the bench."

If the Babe wants to play right field, what about the physical features of the National League fields the Bam is invading regularly after 20 years in the American League?

Can't Play Sun Field
"The Babe can't play the sun field," McKechnie worries some more. "But he's used to right field. Right field is the sun field in only a couple of American League parks."

"But it's the sun field in six of the eight parks in our league. The Babe will find the conditions he's used to, no sun in right field, only in the Polo Grounds in New York and Pittsburgh."

To make matters worse, some of these parks are constructed so that the sun field changes as the season gets older. In most of them it switches to center field, and even into left late in the season."

Teaching the Old Man Mastiff new tricks should be simple compared to deciding what man Ruth will replace in the 'Braves' outfield. Wally Berger, a star in his own right, heavy hitter and fine defensive player, is a fixture in center.

Hal Lee, getting better each year, has had left field all to himself.

Randy Moore, who has been playing right field, is one of the most valuable players on a club that is not overburdened with reserves. He has played the outfield, third base, and can catch if necessary, meanwhile hitting consistently in all these places.

"Plenty of room for Ruth all right," says Bill, "but where?"

One thing is certain. The Braves now boast the most colorful, the oldest, and the most fantastically opposite pair in baseball in Rabbit Maranville and the Babe, 83 years old between them.

Aging "Wizard" of Milwaukee Guilty

(Joseph Fort Newton.)

"BEHOLD the last Democrat," said Jack Jones, as Uncle Abner came in for a chat. "The only specimen in captivity, and the species is extinct. He still believes in proving truth by counting noses."

"Yes, I'm a Democrat," Uncle Abner admitted, "and I'm not ashamed to own it. I believe in democracy, and I've got over all this madness. When we're sure we shall come back to it, sadder but wiser."

"Some faith, that!" said Jones. "In face of facts that lie right under your nose. There is not the least chance of it. Democracy rests upon the theory that man is a rational political animal, and no animal exists. That's the truth of the business, and no denying it. 'Freud has shown us,' he went on, 'that it is the irrational that drives us—and it does. There is no escape from violence, you see. It's the nature of the brute, and we cannot get away from nature.'"

"I see," said Uncle Abner. "Of course, if man is a brute and nothing else, that is the end of it. You believe in a carefully thought out philosophy of the irrational! How delightful! Anything else?"

"Yes, there is," said Jones. "We talk about a better community, but it simply isn't happening. We are just a lot of groups, parties, sects, classes, fighting each other for the wage. If democracy can't make us behave and get somewhere, we will have to try something else that will."

"What else?" asked Uncle Abner. "If water chokes, what are we to do? Really, I ought to give you a straight right between the eyes, and then pat you on the back with my left hand. But I won't."

"Listen, neighbor," Uncle Abner added. "All this talk about the rule of the irrational is the bunk. The whole story of man is the story of getting away from the irrational and learning some sense."

The trouble is we have lost our nerve as well as our standards, and because there are no rules of the game, all we know how to do is to knock each other on the head. But that is horn-eyed stupidity."

"By democracy I mean a sense of the common good which commands the loyalty of us all. You just wait; it will come back!"

Humoring Spoiled Child Is Bad Idea

By Olive Robert Barton

What is a spoiled child?

Strange how that name came to be selected in describing the little boy or girl who is all he shouldn't be and nothing that he should.
The sobriquet relieves him of responsibility and puts it on others.
He is a result of something when "spoiled." It means that care has not been taken to save the good.

Someone said of George Washington, "I do not think Washington was so wonderful. I think his father was wonderful for producing and developing such a boy."
And so it is with us. Our children reflect their handling. If they are fine they reflect us. If they are spoiled they also reflect us.

Children are supposed to be happy to grow up normally and well. This is true, absolutely, so long as we don't confuse happiness with excitement. Real happiness depends as much upon ability to accept things as they come as upon the gratification of wishes.

Unhappy Time Ahead

The spoiled child who has been humored, who has never learned to take disappointment, who cannot bear obedience is someday going to be about as unhappy as it is possible to be. If he cannot conform to ups and downs when he is very young, no miracle is going to smooth his path later.

Therefore it is good and wholesome for our small friend of three, four or five to have his miniature experiences of discipline.

When a child won't let his mother go without a scene, it is time to give him an object lesson. As long as he is safe and cared for there is everything to the idea that he can live without her. She needs make no excuses or promises. No tearful partings. No sneaking out the back way. Just a cheerful good bye and a walkaway. It is not any too easy for the one left with him, but after a few days he will protest less.

It is just as well to make the first absences short. Of course, some mothers cannot get away,
ever, so that is a different story.
The comfort is that when Bobby starts to school he will be more philosophical about parting. The fact in itself is not serious unless there is evidence of a "fixation."
It is more important as one means of developing independence and standing disappointment.

Expected Needs Set-Back

The child constantly loaded with new toys, who expects a new present each day, is another who should have some set-backs for the good of his soul. Break that habit.
Nothing is worse than surfeit. Why rob him of the thrill of a gift? The quickest way to sour any child or any person, is to overload him. It is mistaken kindness at best.

Make home life gay and cheerful, but insist on him conforming to house routine and his personal schedule. Don't give in repeatedly to his whines and squalls. If this method has produced results for him before.

Make him give in to other children much of the time. Try to begin little lessons of sportsmanship. He has to learn what "rights" are. He need not be an easy mark and has a right of his own, but he should see the other side, too.

The mother can work wonders
by quiet firmness and a happy, cheerful attitude. It does not pay to let a child become a tyrant and then adopt a hopeless complaining attitude ourselves. Some children are stronger willed than others.
Often it takes diplomacy to handle them. Do not try to reform the already spoiled child all at once.
It may only increase open rebellion. But make a beginning. Now is the best time.

High Lights On the Avenue

After the sunshine of Wednesday, everyone on the main "avenue" has more spirit and more vim. Business is brisker, people buy more and criticize less. Sunshine is one of man's greatest blessings.

Dollar Day Has Come and Gone

Dollar Day has come and gone, and for the greater part, was a most successful day. Our merchants put before the buying public many bargains, which were appreciated. So ends dollar day until next August. And Valentine Day is again a thing of the past.

Easter Sunday, April 21st

The next day of paramount interest will be Easter Day, for it will be here April 21st, and it is late this year.

The Dixon stores are full of spring merchandise, ladies' infant's and children's ready-to-wear; new and snappy millinery for the ladies; and up-to-date new suits and top coats, hats and gloves for the men, and shoes for all. The new spring colors make one long for the real advent of this favorite season of the year.

Every day is little life, and our whole life is but a day repeated.
Therefore live every day as if it would be the last.—Hall.

Novelty Belt Buckles

Paris—Clasped hands form novel belt buckles which several designers are using on new spring costumes. Some are made of crystal with red enameled nails; others are dull burnished silver.

We print the following with apologies to Joyce Kilmer who wrote "Trees."
Revised Version of "Trees."
(Close to Highways)

I think that I shall never see,
Along the road, an unscrapped tree

With bark intact, and painted white,
That no car ever hit at night.

For every tree that's near the road
Has caused some auto to be towed.
Sideswiping trees is done a lot
By drivers who are not so hot.

God gave them eyes so they could see,
Yet any fool can hit a tree.

—Judge.

"Not Understood"

Not understood, we gather false impressions
And hug them closer as the years go by,

Till virtue oft seems to us transgression
And thus men rise and fall—and live and die—

Not Understood.

Some Saleslady

And then as a last line the story of a goodly Dixon lady who recently advertised a bit of furniture for sale. The telephone rang and the telephone rang and the conversation was about like this:

"Yes"—"Yes, we have it for sale."
—"Well we thought we'd ask $10 but we would take eight."

And brother, seated in the kitchen, emitted a huge groan.

STRANGE EVENTS MAKE A STRANGE WORLD

Helping the winter along toward spring, folks in Sudbury, Ont., have found an apple tree in blossom at the bottom of a 600-foot mine. Meanwhile, city authorities in Cleveland, O., announce that they can't collect the taxpayers' ashes because they are too busy removing snow from the streets, and simultaneously a dust storm hits Kansas.

H. L. Mencken invites Commonwealth College to move from Mena, Ark., to Baltimore, Md., to preserve academic freedom, a freshman at Brown University wins an intercollegiate championship by eating 29 doughnuts in 18 minutes and 50 seconds, and an Indiana college instructor is arrested on charges of kidnapping himself and holding himself for ransom.

Senator Bilbo of Mississippi turns up in the Senate with a black eye and Huey Long appears with a bandaged finger on his left hand, thus leading to official denials that the two mishaps were in any way connected. The bandmaster of the Kansas state penitentiary, himself a convict, persuades the warden to send him to town to get some new music, and forgets to come back, leaving the band musicless and leaderless.

An Indiana manufacturer of bows and arrows says that the American Indian was really an extraordinary poor archer, and Andy Mellon's confidential secretary testifies that Mr. Mellon lost nearly $3,000,000 selling stocks to himself in 1931 and 1932.

Meanwhile, the citizens of Jasper, Alberta, call a meeting to discuss the town's need of an ambulance, and one of the moving spirits falls down on the way to the gathering, breaks an arm, and has to be lugged off to the hospital on a stretcher.

Crime raises its ugly head in Chicago anew. A canary bird is kidnapped from Holy Cross hospital, and a detective discovers that erstwhile auto thieves have turned to stealing baby carriages, finding the traffic in hot autos too dangerous.

The Prince of Wales is mobbed on the streets of Vienna by the biggest crowd of women seen in one spot since the days of Vienna's great Socialist mass meeting, and 300 people jam the concourse of Cleveland's Union Terminal to say hello to Kate Smith.

A Hungarian count has challenged 13 residents of Budapest to duels, on the ground that they insulted his wife by throwing her out of their club when they caught her cheating at cards.

And then, to cap the climax, a New York woman goes to a hospital with a stomachache, attributing it to something she ate. A doctor operates on her and removes from her stomach 224 pins, pieces of bed springs, links of auto tire chains, a set of rubber bands, and bits of broken glass.

WORK IS FIRST REQUIREMENT

Secretary Ickes makes a good point by informing the Senate munitions committee that PWA funds spent on naval construction produce less employment than a good many other public works undertakings.

This statement has some significance in view of the fact that the PWA has allotted some $238,000,000 to naval construction.

The issue here is not whether we need more warships. Considering the uncertain state of international relations, a great many citizens will feel more comfortable when our fleets are built up to treaty strength.

But if we are to do that, why should we not make straightforward appropriations of the money needed, in the customary fashion?

Money for public works is supposed, primarily, to increase employment. If naval construction is not an especially good way of attaining that goal, it might be wise to allot the money somewhere else.

RELIEF IS MOST URGENT

Whatever is ultimately done about the security program in Washington—whether we get an outright dole, a system of unemployment insurance, or something else—we should not let ourselves forget that the problem is an exceedingly pressing one.

For instance: Chicago police were obliged to take eight hungry children under their protection after they had found the children burning the furniture in their home to keep warm.

The father, desperate over his family's plight, had committed a theft and had been put in jail; the mother had died in a hospital from complications over another expectant childbirth.

Grant that the heads of this family mismanaged their affairs somewhat—there still remains an unbearably tragic picture. Whatever form our relief program takes, it must at least make repetitions of such pitiful cases impossible.

A man can out-trade me once, but he can not continue to do business on that basis. I trade on the basis of "what's fair to me and what's fair to you."—John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

The movies feed on the brains of story writers and dramatists and they also now look to the stage for most of their best actors. The result may well be a drying up. —Walter Prichard Eaton, playwright-critic.

The giant, who'd been tickled last night up and shouted. "Why do that? You woke me from a real nice dream. I can't go back to sleep."

"That's fine," said Doty. "Stay awake. We're ready now, to have you take us to your home. You can't do that, when you're in slumber deep."

You promised us, because we found your boot that you would show us round. We all grew tired of waiting while you snoozed and snored real loud.

"I figured you were ticklish, so I tickled you, as you well know. Now we will do whatever you say. We are a willing crowd."

Just then we Sooty shouted. "Hark! I think I heard a real strange bark." The giant smiled and said, "Oh, that's my funny hoofs sound."

"I'll whistle and he'll come to me, and then a strange sight you will see. It took me years to train the beast to follow me around."

The whistle brought the hound in sight, and little Doty Tynmite exclaimed, "Why that's the beast we saw when we were in the tree."

"He barked and then he went away. With him I'd really like to play, if he is tame, and you are sure that he won't snap at me."

"Why, say, that hound's a friendly sort. With him you'll have a lot of sport. In fact, I'll let you ride him," said the giant, with a grin.

The strange hound wagged his tail a bit and Copsy said, "Gee, look at that. Its friendship you can see, is quite an easy thing to win."

In just moment both the girls hopped on its back. "Now, if he whirled around, be sure that you don't fall," the friendly giant said.

And then the others heard him say, "Come on, you lads were on our way. It will not take us long to reach my house. It's straight ahead."

THEY'RE SAFE-IN AN ALL-STEEL BODY

—a feature of the big, rugged New-Value Dodge

THE first Dodge car ever built had an all-steel body. It wasn't chance . . . it wasn't "climbing on a bandwagon" that led Dodge to the safety of the all-steel body. It was progressive engineering, the urge to pioneer, to lead and not follow in vital, important automobile improvements.

These Dodge bodies have been tested and proved by owners for over 20 years, everywhere, in constant daily use. Dodge not only pioneered the all-steel body but has constantly perfected it over the years.

So, too, with hydraulic brakes. First introduced by Dodge many years ago, Dodge has constantly developed them. Today, Dodge gives you hydraulic brakes that are long past the experimental stage. For in Dodge you get perfected, dual-cylinder hydraulic brakes—safer, more dependable, more economical than other types.

Now Dodge pioneers again the "Air-glide Ride", in which you speed smoothly along with new comfort, skimming over bumps without a tremor or jar, taking the curves safely, without sideway. Another new contribution to motoring ease is "Synchromatic Control", which makes driving unbelievably easy and effortless.

You'll recognize this Dodge as a prize beauty the minute you see it. But you must drive it to see how far ahead of others it is in power and speed, comfort and economy, safety and performance.

TALL MEN RULE FAVORITES ON PREP QUINTS

West Aurora, Elgin Have Rangy, Tall Players

(Note—This, the fourth of a series on state high school basketball, discusses the style of play of various teams in the championship drive.)

Champaign, Feb. 28.—(AP)—This is the day of the big man in basketball. Speed and skill have not been put aside altogether, but more than ever the high school coaches are leaning toward the tall, rangy type of basketball players.

Typical of this trend is the West Aurora team, which uses a fast break and zone defense featuring a six-foot, four-inch center, Reising, and another lead, Flentye, who is dead on one-hand pivot shots from underneath the basket. Aurora is just reaching its peak and is probably in the best shape of any northern team at this point.

Taller even than West Aurora are the Elgin Maroons, recently christened the "Towers" because their starting five average six-two in height. The Towers have slumped since they lost their defensive star, Geister, and will have to snap out of it soon if they expect to win district and sectional tournaments.

No Mass Height
Galesburg does not have the mass height like Elgin and West Aurora but the "Silver Streaks," as they are called because of their speed, do very well with three tall boys and two midjet guards who are sure shots from out on the floor.

A tight semi-zone defense and fast block plays have been responsible for Galesburg's success though many people are inclined to underestimate them because of the lack of competition on their schedule.

Peoria Manual, another of the state's best prep teams, should meet Galesburg in sectional play. It will be a game worth going miles to see.

Deerfield is big and husky and rules the Suburban league, and while in that area I want to call attention to Morton High of Cicero, the state champion of 1932. Morton stumbled through the first half of the season but recovered brilliantly to beat Deerfield, Oak Park, and Proviso in its last three starts. Surely this team will be hard to handle in tournament play.

Probably the most underrated team is Rockford. Steadily improving with each game, this well-balanced team gave Elgin and West Aurora all they could handle. Rockford might win the Freeport sectional if Elgin is not assigned there.

Thornion Has Flashes
The front line of Boudreau, McComb, and Hellman still flash down the floor for Thornion High of Harvey, but the former state champs lack a strong defense in their battle to regain the crown. Still they'll be in the thick of the district and sectional warfare.

Pekin is another team with a six-foot, four-inch center, Grant, but Mr. Pulaski tops that with six-foot, seven-inch Charles Wagner. Moline's team is big.

Past and clever teams like Havana and Farmington have played some good basketball but it's hard to see how they can go far against teams which tower above them so much.

THREE CUE STARS STILL RUNNING FOR FINAL WIN

Billiards Tourney has Reached Third Day of Play

Chicago, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The big three, Percy Collins of Chicago, Edgar T. Appleby of New York, and Edmund Soussa of Egypt, were still running head and head today as the national amateur 162 ballline billiards tournament went into the third day of play.

All won their second straight victories yesterday. Collins, the defending titleholder, trounced Ray Fessenden of Madison, Wis., 300 to 138 in 26 innings in the night match, and Appleby turned in a new high mark for the tournament at 87 in another Seymour Kling match of New York, 300 to 125 in 25 innings. Soussa, making his first bid for the championship, easily defeated Tom Morgan of Kansas City 300 to 100, in 25 innings.

Action speeded up today with four matches on the program instead of the customary three. Morgan and Kling were matched in the first afternoon game, with Appleby trying for his third triumph against Arie Schaap of Chicago in the second evening match. Collins meets Morgan and Soussa tackles Fessenden in the night events.

TO SEMI-FINALS

Elwood McReynolds, flashy colored middleweight boxer of this city who has appeared in numerous bouts before local fans, made his way to the semi-finals of the Chicago Tribune Golden Glove boxing tournament last evening. It is not Elwood's first appearance in the stadium ring at Chicago in the annual classic as he has previously aspired for honors, but this is his best advance thus far.

Elwood, who is a member of the Dayton, Ohio, team, was matched against Wes Phelps of Davenport, Iowa. It was a fast and hard bout as reported over the radio from the ringside, both aspirants appearing as well trained and clever boxers. Phelps made McReynolds miss the most, but the Dixon boy's aggressiveness gained the final point verdict of the judges. Elwood will continue limited training for the finals to be held at the Chicago Stadium on the evening of March 8.

BABE'S COMING IS OCCASION FOR JUBILEE

Emil Fuchs Dramatizes Signing of the Big Bambino

Boston, Feb. 28.—(AP)—It will be in a new theater, under a different producer and with a changed supporting cast, but the same old leading man will be under the spotlight tonight when the curtain rolls up on the 1935 version of baseball's favorite melodrama, "The Signing of Babe Ruth."

During the super-star's 15-year Broadway run, his openings gradually lost their gay and festive touches and became something that resembled a serious problem drama. But Mr. Ruth's new impresario, Emil Fuchs of the Boston Braves, has a much more lusty sense of the theater than Producer Ruppert of the New York Yanks.

During recent years that highly successful showman gave a sort of skimpy opening, a one scene affair, a desk and two chairs setting with few, if any, stogees, backstage. And note can say that Mr. Ruth did not give his customary excellent performance.

Drama Has 3 Acts
Realizing that it is a homecoming event for the Babe, producer Fuchs has "spotted" his elaborate production for three acts with as many scenes, including the super-monster arrival at the railroad station amid the cheers of the populace, and that old time bit of sure-fire, the stupendous and colorful street parade, positively, rain or shine.

With it definitely understood that he will be the manager of the Braves in 1936, the Babe will arrive here at 5:40 P. M., waited upon by thousands of his admirers, headed by the Mayor and his official family. Then he will make his way through the vast crowd, behind a large police escort, to the street, where he will join a large motor cavalcade, that will parade to a back bay hotel.

Act 2 will find him in the grand ballroom, greeting hundreds of other admirers and then will come the terrific climax, the actual signing of a three-year contract, that makes him assistant manager to Bill McKechnie, second vice president, a position that is outranked only by those of President Fuchs and Club Adams, first vice president, and promises him a $25,000 player's salary, a $5,000 bonus for his executive work and a percentage of the Braves' profits.

Predict More Money
All told, Fuchs predicted, Ruth will net more with the Braves than he did under his $35,000 contract with the Yanks.

This program may sound long and elaborate but Fuchs is charged that time did not permit him to arrange a super-colossal demonstration in which every city in New England would participate. That, however, will be staged in the near future.

Ruth, and everyone connected with the club, stress, will spend the season playing as many games as he can, probably at first base, and studying the National League situation under cny Will McKechnie.

Next year, after the Babe has completed this managerial course, he will become the active leader of the club and his tutor will move up as general manager.

The Babe has planned to return to New York immediately after tonight's formalities and will get underway for St. Petersburg on Sunday.

After you have that auto accident do you not wish you had one of the Dixon Telegraph's Accident $10,000 Accident Insurance Policy. It costs but $1.40 for a year's protection.

AMBOY LEGION BEATS KNACKS BY 28-24 COUNT

Game Cleanly Played in Amboy Opera House Last Evening

Amboy's fighting Legionnaires turned in their first victory over a Dixon independent quint last night by downing the Knacks Leaders, 28 to 24 after a hard-fought battle.

The game, one of the cleanest played on the Amboy floor this season, held the crowd spellbound from start to finish with its brilliancy. Although the Knacks were handicapped somewhat by the small floor, the Amboyites found the Blues about the stiffest opposition they have met this year.

For the Legionnaires, Reinboth continued the sparkling of the offensive. He sank four buckets and garnered a quartet of gift shots totaling twelve points. Kays was the 'luminary of the Leaders' aggregation. He snared three field goals and two free throws. His nearest competitor was Fred Carlson. The blond ace sank a trio of baskets.

Referring the contest was Coach Dominetta of Amboy high school and he did an excellent job it was reported by the Knack's men this morning.

ARCHER TALKS AT DEMOLAYS' BIRTH DINNER

Local Order Holds Anniversary Banquet

Nearly two hundred DeMolays and their fathers assembled at a birthday banquet commemorating the founding of the Dixon chapter six years ago, at the Brinton Masonic Temple Wednesday night.

Laverne T. Ryder, president of the National Homecraft Guild, delivered an address and gave a demonstration of archery.

council member since the founding of the local order six years ago.

Awards Given

Awards were presented to Robert Thompson, Gilbert Frase, Ray Worth and Albert Kennedy for obtaining the most new members to the order. Leslie Marshall, George Campbell, Louis Schumm, Jack Little, Robert Miller, Hubert Auman, Lloyd Miller, William Schrock, James Naylor, Wayne Sutter and George Walters were given recognition buttons as new members. Arnold Schultz, president of the local Homecraft Guild then introduced Mr. Ryder, of Rockford.

The speaker said homecraft clubs exist in all parts of the world and also archery sportsmen. The purpose of homecraft work, he claimed, is the development of the individual's special hobby. He declared the fun of archery lies in the making of equipment as well as in the shooting. He told his interested audience that archery is the oldest game in history. In reviewing its history he traced it from the days of the Romans and Turks to the present day. He outlined use of bows and arrows as war weapons and explained how archery was transformed into a pastime by the English which aided its modern development.

Classes Next to Swimming

Mr. Ryder classed archery as next to swimming for exercise because it develops every muscle in the body. He classified the types of arrows for big and small game shooting and their tremendous force upon contact with their targets. He compared the types of woods used for the making of bows indicating that lemonwood and American ewe were perhaps the most desirable. He said the life of a lemonwood bow is approximately two years. Other woods were exhibited and their advantages explained, especially the bows with improvements designed to prevent kicking.

The speaker said the world's record for arrow flight is 850 yards established by the ancient Turks. In flight shooting, he emphasized that flight shooting is so radically different from target shooting, that specialists in either cannot change their department, and continue proficient in both styles. He exploded the myth that Indians were exceptionally good archers. He also discounted the common theory that steel bows are more satisfactory than wood for accuracy.

Mr. Ryder concluded his talk by a demonstration of equipment for the archer in action, the proper form, and the actual shooting.

Springfield's Former Mayor to be Taken to Hospital for Tests

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 27—(AP)—John S. Schnepf, former mayor of Springfield who was arrested in Los Angeles two weeks ago, is under indictment today for embezzling $20,258 from the Mary Ettinger estate in 1931.

The special grand jury late yesterday indicted Schnepf on three counts, alleging he embezzled a check for $20,258 while acting as conservator of the estate, converted the money to his own use and embezzled the proceeds of the estate.

Further indictments will be considered when the regular grand jury meets next month, said State's Attorney A. K. Greening.

Schnepf is expected to be returned here sometime Friday and later taken to Jacksonville to undergo mental tests to determine whether his lapse of memory is genuine.

SILKEN SPINDLES

BEGIN HERE TODAY

GALE HENDERSON, pretty and 22, works in a silk mill. She and her 19-year-old brother, Phil, support their invalid father.

STEVE MEYERS, who also works in the mill, asks Gale to marry him. She delays giving her answer.

Gale goes skating, breaks through the ice and is rescued by BRIAN WESTMORE, whose father, now dead, built the mill. Brian has come home after two years in Paris, ready to take his place in the mill.

VICKY THATCHER, daughter of ROBERT THATCHER, general manager of the mill, schemes to captivate Brian. She sees him with Gale and is furious. Convinced to meet him, she tells her that she (Vicky) and Brian are engaged to be married. Gale, believing Brian has asked her to marry him, is deeply hurt. She refuses to see him again.

Gale goes to a dance with Steve. Phil is there. He has been drinking and bursts into loud denunciation of the mill bosses. Next day Phil is fired.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXVII

Phil went on bitterly. "They let out four of us—Gillaspie and Fritz Moon and Ed Turner and me. Oh, I know why! Some of Thatcher's spies got hold of the fact that we've been holding meetings, trying to get an organization started. That's why they fired us. That's the only reason. Everybody knows Gillaspie was the best man in the spinning room and Ed Turner's worked in the mill for eight years."

Gale said, "But, Phil—"

"Don't think I'm sorry!" he interrupted. His red hair fairly bristled. "Say, I'm glad it happened. I'm glad I'm through slaving for Thatcher and his gang of crooks."

"But what about the others?" Gale asked. "Joe Gillaspie and Ed Turner. They're all got families. What will they do?"

"They'll get along. And I'll get along, too. I'll get a job somewhere. Oh—I heard something else tonight. Mary Cassidy got an eviction notice."

"Oh, Phil!"

"Ordered her out unless she can pay up her rent—and of course she can't. What else would you expect of those old robbers? It seems Mary's been talking lately. Must have been pretty free in saying what she thought of the way they treated her at the mill. It got back to Thatcher and now she's got to pay or get out tomorrow."

"But how can she pay her rent when she hasn't any work?" Gale asked indignantly. "She's only been earning a few dollars a week since she left the mill and she's got those two children to take care of. Mary's doing the best she can."

Phil shrugged. "What of it?" he said. "You don't suppose that makes any difference to Thatcher, do you? Sure, he'll put her out. Mary and her children, and all the rest of us, too, can starve for all he cares."

"Poor Mary!" Gale said. "There must be something we can do. Maybe I'd better go over—"

"There's nothing you can do tonight," Phil told her. "Wait until tomorrow and see what happens."

Wait and see what happens!

THE words came to Gale again, standing before her bedroom window, staring out at the darkness. Wait and see what happens! What would happen to Mary Cassidy and her two children if they were put out of their home? How would they live? And what would happen to Gale's father and her brother and herself, with Phil out of a job?

Figures danced before her dizzily—$5.40 for groceries, $3.60 for coal, the rent due next week, the $5 Phil owed her that wouldn't be paid now, $1.50 at the drug store, the gas bill that was overdue—

How could she pay those bills when they totaled more than she earned? Yet if they weren't paid—particularly the rent—would she and her father and Phil find themselves out on the street, turned out of their home as Mary Cassidy was to be turned out?

No, of course that couldn't happen. Not to her—Gale Henderson. She was learning herself, she worked up over something imaginary. She'd find a way to meet the bills. And perhaps Phil would find another job in a day or two, perhaps even tomorrow.

Gale turned away but the icy feeling clung about her heart. "Wait and see what happens," she told herself once more. "Wait and see what happens—"

Phil met her as she came from the mill the next afternoon and they went to Mary Cassidy's. It was a gray day. There had been a drizzling rain all morning and though the rain had ceased, the air was still damp. It was cold now, too, and there was a sharp wind.

Phil said, "Lem Williams told me the sheriff was down there. He said they were putting Mary's stuff out on the sidewalk."

"They're really putting her out? I should think Sheriff Whitman would be ashamed of himself!"

"Whitman takes orders from Thatcher just like everyone else in this town. Don't you know that?"

"But a woman like Mary Cassidy, with two little children—"

GALE did not finish the sentence. They turned a corner and, half-way down the block, saw Mary's cottage. A dozen people—men, women and children—were moving about and, at the edge of the walk, in a disorderly pile, was a pitiful array of furniture, bedding, dishes, clothes, a bag of coal, and a box containing food. Bed posts were stacked against a table and chairs piled on top. A mattress, doubled over, sprawled on the ground, a tea kettle beside it. Half a dozen potatoes had fallen from a sack and a child was picking them up.

Another youngster, a boy of 8 or 9, came running toward them. "Mrs. Cassidy's been 'victed'," he shouted. It was a new game to the child and he was excited.

Gale said, "Oh, it's horrible! Look—there's Mary."

On the above Fisherman's Calendar the best days for fishing are indicated by a solid black fish, days not so good by a partially black fish, and poor days for fishing by a white fish. This calendar is scientifically compiled, using the moon, the signs, and every known factor that has a bearing on fishing as used by the "Old Timer," as well as the modern sportsman. Use discretion in selecting your fishing days—do not go when it is windy, tide against you, or the waters muddy—but select comparatively calm days when the fish show solid black and you will find this calendar to be surprisingly accurate for both inland and deep sea fishing, and for any waters in or surrounding the United States and Canada.

Kin of Robert Fulton Invents Sea-Going Windmill

Robert Fulton pioneered steam navigation, but one of his descendants, Palmer H. Cray, utilizes old-fashioned wind to propel this newfangled craft at Miami, Fla. The breeze turns the windmills, which operate air pumps, which compress air in a tank below decks. The compressed air, in turn, operates an engine, which turns a propeller, which makes the boat go. Complicated, but it works.

For themselves, it became a different matter, and who imagined that it could be bought with money.

The unholy use of holy things is further illustrated in the story of Peter and Simon Magus—a man who was not a saint at heart, but a magician who desired to have the power that he saw the apostles exercising, and who imagined that it could be bought with money.

Against all such Ananiases and Sapphiras and Simons, one must set the beauty and integrity of true Christian character and action, the beauty of supreme and self-sacrificing devotion. The height and glory of the Christian witness must never be compromised by regard for those who fail to live up to their profession.

It is not by the failure of men.

by their weaknesses and hypocrisies, that we should judge the truth and the Christian ideal, but by the triumphant living of those who measure up to the supreme test.

Clean Out Kidney Poisons

Wash Out Your 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes

If kidneys don't pass 3 pints a day and get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters may become clogged with poisonous waste and the danger of acid poisoning is greatly increased. Bladder passages are difficult, which often smart and burn like scalding water and cause discomfort.

This acid condition, brought about by poor kidney functions is a danger signal and may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

Most people watch their bowels which contain only 27 feet of intestines but neglect the kidneys which contain 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters. If these tubes or filters become clogged with poisons, it may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't run any risk. Make sure your kidneys empty 3 pints a day.

Stories in STAMPS

FOUR HUNDRED years ago, Father Jose de Anchieta, a young Portuguese missionary, ventured among the savage Indians of Brazil and within a year made them his most devoted followers.

Once, when the Tamoyo Indians attacked the Portuguese immigrants, Father Anchieta induced the invaders to come to terms with the Europeans and accept him as a human bond to guarantee the faith of his countrymen. For three years they kept him hostage, until the Portuguese had fulfilled their pledge.

Today this missionary, now St. Anchieta, is known as "The Apostle of Brazil," or "The Apostle of the New World." Brazil has just honored him with a commemorative stamp issue of four values.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

PETER UNMASKED FALSEHOOD

TEXT: Acts 5:16, 8:18-24.

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for March 3.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
(Editor of Advance.)

The story of Ananias and Sapphira has taken rather firm hold in human interest. It is unfortunately true that mankind is wont to take a more apparent interest in a great liar than in a great truth teller, though I suppose it is not quite true that mankind is more interested in falsehood than in truth.

People refer to a great liar today as an "Ananias" though Ananias was something more than a liar. The fact is that Ananias is perhaps more closely related to most persons than they realize, because his deep sin was not in telling an untruth, but in professing to be something that he was not doing.

A wave of fine social enthusiasm had swept over these early Christians, destroying distinctions of wealth and rank, making those who were well to do, ready to minister to the needs of those who lacked—a sort of Christian Communism, very noble for those like Barnabas, who could enter it earnestly and sincerely, but difficult for those whose souls were not purified and enriched with the spirit of unselfishness.

The tendency in all such situations is for ideals to become dominant and exacting in such way that individuals who have not undergone the necessary experience that enables them to respond naturally and sincerely are, nevertheless, too weak to express their dissent.

So they profess to live according to the ideal while the reality of their lives is very different.

This is what Ananias and Sapphira, his wife, possessing property, did not say, as they might have said, "We are not willing to give all this as others are giving."

Instead, they professed to be giving it all, but they actually kept back part of the price.

They came laying their gifts at the apostle's feet, professing to yield their all, where they were withholding much for themselves.

The condemnation in our lesson was not because they did not give it up, but because, as Peter said to them, they had lied to the Holy Spirit. The property was theirs; while they had it, it was in their power. But when they professed to give it to purposes of the church, and keep it

LIVING COST WILL MOUNT 11 PER CENT

Sec. Wallace Prophet;
Economist Says Cost
Must Be Reduced

Washington, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Food prices, Secretary Wallace says, probably will climb 11 per cent during the first half of 1935 even if there is no recurrence of drought.

The agricultural department head made this prediction late yesterday at a press conference. Just previously, the weather bureau had reported continued dry weather in large portions of five states which were affected by last summer's drought.

Though Dr. Mordica Ekel, economic adviser to Wallace, said "most of the increases were due to drought, Wallace said "I think the AAA had something to do with it."

Wallace based his forecast of rising food prices on estimates prepared by Dr. Louis H. Beann, AAA economic adviser. During the latter half of this year, prices 12 per cent above those during the last six months of 1934 were predicted.

Wallace said meat costs were the main factor in the rise of food prices. They were said to be 32 percent above the level recorded during the last half of 1934.

Economists in the agriculture department meanwhile expressed fear that crop production this year will be affected drastically by severe dust storms in portions of the west, lack of subsoil moisture in some areas and damage threatened by chinch bugs and other insects.

HAS PROLONGED DEPRESSION
Urbana, Ill., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Commodity prices will come down, believes Paul D. Converse, professor of marketing at the University of Illinois, before the depression takes its long-awaited departure. Tampering with the price system, this economist contends, has prolonged the depression to such extent that purchasing power and national morale are "sadly depressed."

The current slump, Prof. Converse says, is in striking contrast to the last major depression in 1920-22, when the price level fell 44 per cent in one year.

In the decline which started in 1929, prices diminished so gradually that three years elapsed before the price level fell 36 per cent, Converse says. Even today, the price level is from 10 to 30 per cent higher than the average during the past 100 years, he points out.

Not Allowed to Operate
"Let prices perform their intended purpose," Converse advises. "Prices are supposed to adjust the demand and supply. The trouble is not with the price system, but with the fact that it has not been allowed to operate freely."

Prof. Converse used the agriculture situation as an example and said industry could take a lesson from it.

"Farm products are sold on open and free markets where prices are determined by the free play of demand and supply. During the past decade, farm income and the income of industrial workers have moved together. Farm employment was maintained. If the income of industrial workers had been larger, the prices of farm products would have been higher."

Lesson Is Clear
"The lesson is clear. Industry should keep up production and sell its products on open and free markets. We live under a price economy and yet many sellers appear blind to this fact."

"We cannot raise the standard of living or restore prosperity by curtailing production. Let us maintain production and sell the output on the open and free markets. Prices will thus enable consumption to be maintained and in this turn will support employment."

Drowned Indianan's $2,000 Ring Object of Search in Peoria

Richmond, Ind., Feb. 28.—(AP)—A body found in the Illinois river near Peoria, Feb. 22 was identified today as that of Charles H. Lair, 60, by Sarah Davis of this city. She made the identification through luggage which she said she had loaned him last November for a trip in search of work. Lair was said to have been wearing a diamond ring valued at $2,000 when he left Richmond and police have been asked to search for it.

PEORIA JEWELRY CO. ROBBERS GET $15,000 IN GEMS

Kidnap Window Washer
Who Tries to Halt
Their Escape

Peoria, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Two men robbed the Kennedy Jewelry Company's loop store of $15,000 in gems shortly after the place opened for business today, and kidnaped a window washer who tried to prevent their escape.

Police squad cars equipped with two-way radio pursued the robbers and their victim.

The men entered the store just after it opened and forced William H. Faber, store optician, to unlock the counters and then to open the safe. They scooped up unset diamonds from a tray and then bound and gagged Faber.

As the robbers were leaving the store, Steve Wietnowitz, window washer lunched at them. They seized Wietnowitz and threw him into their car before speeding away.

NEW DEAL LEGAL FORCES PREPARE FOR LIFE FIGHT

Constitutionality of NRA
Features Basis of Court Battles

Washington, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The New Deal marshalled its legal forces today to ward off a blow which—if it should gain the added strength of supreme court approval—would topple much of NRA's vast structure into the dust.

The blow was the opinion, enunciated by Federal Judge John P. Nields of Delaware yesterday, that the constitution did not confer upon congress the power to regulate manufacture.

It was reinforced by the ruling of Federal Judge Charles I. Dawson at Louisville, Ky., who declared that coal mining is an intra-state business; that intra-state business is beyond the regulatory power of congress; and that therefore the National Industrial Recovery Act as applied to coal is unconstitutional.

Much of the New Deal is based on the idea that if a business affects commerce between the states, congress can regulate it. But that view met an obstacle in Judge Nields' flat statement that manufacture is not subject to such regulation.

Cited Supreme Court
In the course of an opinion in which he held Section 7-A of NIRA unconstitutional as applied to the Weirton Steel Company, he said supreme court rulings demonstrated that "the constitution did not give to congress the power to regulate manufacture." To regard Weirton's manufacturing operations as instruments for the interstate movement of goods, he said, would put practically all American manufacturing under the control of the federal government, a result which "has received the unqualified condemnation of the supreme court."

The government plans an immediate appeal from Judge Dawson's decision. It did not announce its plans on Judge Nields' ruling but Blackwell Smith, counsel for the recovery administration, left no doubt in observer's minds that it would combat the idea expressed by the Delaware judge.

Attorney General Cummings and a staff of lawyers were studying the decision.

"Out-Moded Theory"
Smith contended Judge Nields' opinion was based on an "out-moded" theory.

State Insurance Director Seeks Greater Regulatory Control Over Small Loan Companies in Illinois

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Ernest Palmer, state insurance director, today sponsored bills to give him greater regulatory control over small loan companies.

Introduced in house and senate, the bills would retain the present 3 1-2 per cent maximum interest rate on loans of $100 or less, but the interest would be 2 1-2 per cent between $100 and $500. Small loan companies would be required to accept advance payments made in an effort to reduce interest payments.

The insurance department would have power to issue rules and regulations, supervise advertising, revoke licenses and prevent changes in locations.

BULLETIN

Boston, Feb. 28.—(AP)—A wall of secrecy and denial today surrounded rumors that Lindbergh ransom money had been passed recently in Boston.

Federal authorities here declined to comment on the discovery of a $10 and a $20 gold certificate in the bank account of the American Airlines, Inc. Air line officials here, however, admitted that two gold certificates had been found in their deposit of Feb. 23 with the State Trust Co.

David E. Hersee, vice-president of the bank, belittled the rumor that the notes were ransom money. Although unable to give the series numbers of the notes, he explained, the bank's account with the Federal Reserve bank in Boston had been cleared on Feb. 25. No Federal investigators had requested knowledge of the source of the bills, he said, therefore leading him to believe the notes could not have been part of the ransom money.

Hersee said gold certificates were not uncommon in deposits. The two notes deposited by the American Airlines, he said, were discovered by a teller in the Copley Square branch of the trust company.

The bank officials said he was certain that if the notes had been part of the ransom money the Federal Reserve bank or the Treasury department would have requested their source.

New York, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Bruno Hauptmann's defense fund was richer today by more than $2,000, the contribution of thousands of wildly enthusiastic Germans who stormed a rally in his behalf.

Their donation will be added to the $15,000 previously raised to appeal the carpenter's conviction on a charge of killing the Lindbergh baby, who was stolen from his crib three years ago tomorrow.

The little country courtroom where Hauptmann, wife of the condemned man, from women who pressed around her as she made her way to the platform. Reinforcements had their hands full clearing a path so that she and Edward J. Reilly, defense attorney, could leave after the rally.

"My husband as well as I have sympathy for those who suffer," Mrs. Hauptmann said. "We are sorry a crime like this has been committed, because we ourselves have a child which we love."

TWO IDENTIFIED BANDIT SLAYERS IN OTTAWA CASE

Eye Witnesses Slay-ing of Banker Took Stand Today

Ottawa, Ill., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Two more witnesses to the slaying of J. Charles Bundy, Leona bank cashier, accused Fred Gerner and Arthur Thielen from the witness stand today as the pair stood trial for their lives.

James Adamson, 77, testified that he saw an automobile containing three members of the band of four who had just raided the Leona State bank pass Bundy and Charles Seipp, a county supervisor, who had Thielen, fourth member of the robber band, in custody.

Fired from Auto
The three in the automobile fired on Bundy and Seipp, Adamson said, and Thielen, who had been walking ahead of the pair with his hands raised, drew a gun and fired on Seipp, who was running for cover.

James Adamson, Jr., who followed his father to the stand, said he was present at Thielen's capture and also when the three men fired on Bundy and Seipp. The younger Adamson said Thielen called to the men in the automobile:

"Blackie! Blackie! Let them have it."

With that, Adamson testified, the three men started firing.

One of the band, John Hauff, has pleaded guilty to a charge of murder. The fourth member killed himself before capture.

Amboy High's Cage Team Going Strong

The Amboy township high school basketball team is winding up a very successful season and ran their string of victories to three wins in as many games played against strong teams last week. They defeated Mendota on the latter's floor to open their series of games last week, then downed Morrison on the Amboy court. A third victory was won from Oregon at the Ogle county seat Saturday night by a one point margin and Polo will furnish the opposition on the Amboy floor tomorrow evening. With this fine record Amboy will be accompanied by a strong following in the tournament games in which they will appear at the high school here next week.

Local Trapper Gets Two Fine Grey Foxes

Earl Helfrich, residing east of Dixon, captured two fine specimens of grey fox this morning while running his trap line on the George Miller farm on the River road in the Bend. Going over his traps, which have been covered with ice and snow for the past few days, he took one fox early this morning, which he brought to Dixon and sold. Returning home, he recalled one trap which he had not inspected and on investigation found another large female grey fox which had been snared during the night. Both foxes were trapped in an open corn field on the Miller farm.

Former Justice O. W. Holmes Very Ill

Washington, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Former Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, who retired from active service on the bench a few years ago, was declared today by his attending physician, Dr. Thomas A. Clayton, to be seriously ill at his residence in this city.

Long an outstanding figure in American jurisprudence, Holmes delivered his last opinion on January 11, 1932, after 29 years of service on the supreme court bench.

Since that time he has lived in quiet seclusion in his residence here. On March 9 the aged jurist will be 94 years old.

But despite the extraordinary position of his organs, Wallace is bright, normally active and possesses the appetite of any other Glendale, Calif., youngster.

DEMOCRATS URGE INCREASED SALES MOTOR FUEL TAX

House Leader Introduced Bills Providing for Higher Levies

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Legislative inclination as to relief financing today found the house wrangling over when it should act on proposals to add another cent to the sales and gasoline taxes.

Hope of focusing bipartisan support on a definite revenue program was finally abandoned by the executive committee, whose major accomplishment was to discard the possibility of another relief bond issue.

Struggling to get action, Executive Chairman F. W. Lewis of Robinson introduced five house bills designed to raise unemployment funds, but Republicans insisted that proposals to curtail authority of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission be considered at the same time.

The bills introduced by Lewis and placed on first reading late yesterday were:

For Increased Taxes.
1. To increase the retail sales tax from two to three percent from March 15 to July 1, 1937, bringing in an estimated $20,000,000 in additional funds each year.

2. To increase the motor fuel tax from three to four cents a gallon during the same period, yielding about $10,000,000 yearly.

3. To place all utility companies under the sales tax at the proposed three percent rate, a potential source of from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000.

4. To broaden the sales tax base to provide a three percent levy on the privilege of engaging in several dozen occupations and professions, the specific details to be revised at the amendment stages.

5. To appropriate $7,500,000 to the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, enough to pay the state's share of the unemployment bills until July 1.

Other Bills Expected.
Other bills are expected to be tossed in, providing for a corporation excise levy and a tax on cigars and other tobaccos as other means of raising the needed $3,000,000 monthly relief.

Governor Horner, who held a series of conferences with the executive committee, made no statement as the sessions broke up with leaders of both parties declaring that virtually nothing had been accomplished.

"We are simply going to put in various bills to try to get some action," said Rep. Thomas P. Sennett, Rock Island Democrat.

The "reorganization before re-financing" slogan was taken up by Republicans who protested that the relief set-up should be changed.

Governor is Busy: Budget is Delayed

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 28.—(AP)—The biennial budget is on Governor Horner's desk, Finance Director K. L. Ames, Jr., said today, and will be sent to the legislature for consideration as soon as the Governor gets time to look it over.

Inquiry about the budget was made by the Republican Senate caucus, which pointed out that the law requires that the estimates on the state's biennial receipts and expenditures be submitted within four weeks after the General Assembly organized.

Ames announced that he prepared the budget, but that the Governor's time has been occupied by relief and other issues.

Honolulu Floods Claim Fifth Life

Honolulu, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Floods sweeping Oahu Island claimed a fifth life here today when an explosion killed a Japanese woman and injured six other persons.

Flood waters caused the explosion of a gas main, fatally injuring Mrs. Nobu Yoshikawa, 45, critically injuring three others and less seriously hurting three more.

Previously four persons were drowned and four others reported missing when the rivers were sent on a rampage by a sudden cloud-burst which choked rivers. Thirty-three days of heavy rain had

Foreign Substance Found in Motor of Post's
Airship

BULLETIN

Kansas City, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Wiley Post charged today that nearly two pounds of steel filings and powdered emery were placed in the engine of his airplane, probably at the instigation of "another pilot," to cause the failure of his recent projected stratosphere flight across the continent.

Post, here enroute to New York, did not name the pilot but said he had enough evidence to the alleged sabotage to convince him the foreign matter was placed in the engine of the Winnie Mae deliberately.

The Oklahoman said the substances caused the engine to overheat dangerously after he had been in the air less than 50 minutes. He made a forced landing, with a full load of gasoline and without landing gear, in the bed of Murod dry lake in California.

"Laboratory tests disclosed the presence of the emery and filings in the oils," Post said, referring to an investigation now underway in Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Possible sabotage in the preparation of Wiley Post's plane for his latest stratosphere hop was hinted today as laboratory analysis was being made of a "damaging substance" found in the motor of the "Winnie Mae".

The noted round-the-world flier was forced down an hour after he left here last Friday on an intended stratosphere flight to New York. He declined to make a direct statement as to how the substance might have come to be in the engine, but he was quoted by officials of the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, the makers of the plane, as regretting it, "if it is found true that anyone had deliberately attempted to ruin" the engine.

The discovery, announced yesterday, has not been reported to authorities and it was indicated no investigation would be requested.

Engine Builder Talks
Palmer Nichols, president of a corporation selling Pratt & Whitney engines, the type used in Post's plane, issued the following statement:

"Upon disassembly of Wiley Post's engine, we found a foreign substance in the intake manifold, the air coolers between the supercharger and the engine, the oil screen and in the oil.

"This substance apparently caused excessive wear on the pistons, cylinder walls and blower section.

"A laboratory analysis is being made to determine the nature of the substance."

No Leak Discovered
After Post had been forced down at Murod dry lake on the Mojave desert, he said he believed there was a leak in the oil system. No leak was discovered, but the presence of the foreign substance was brought to light.

The engine had not been completely overhauled since Post came here in January to prepare for the flight, it apparently being in good condition.

Post had dropped his landing gear in the flight and a forced landing on the "belly" of the ship anywhere except on a smooth field might have proved dangerous.

BROTHERS DENY CHARGES

Daiches, widow of Eli Daiches, in her suit to recover a share in the $310,000 insurance paid the Thomas Bowers Advertising Agency for Daiches' death. Irving Weitzman is under life sentence for conspiring in the slaying of Daiches.

Amazing Tale of 'Uncanny Scheme' in High Finance Wins Its Relator Prison Term of One to Ten Years

Chicago, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Joseph Baista was under sentence of one to ten years today for embezzling $35,000 from a loan bank as a part of an alleged plot to loot the treasuries of two financial institutions, including an insurance company.

Baista was sentenced by Judge Michael Feinberg of the criminal court who branded a confession by Baista as an "uncanny scheme" after the court had declared a mistrial for Dave Barry, fight referee, and Abraham Karatz, both of whom were accused of being involved in the embezzlement. Sudden illness of Barry's attorney ended the trial. The case, however, is to be retried.

Told Amazing Tale
As Baista was brought before Judge Feinberg for sentencing he told a tale which amazed court and prosecutors, of his operations and their associates.

COAL TRAIN ON I. C. BOMBED IN MINERS BATTLE

2 Cars Topped Into Little Muddy Creek
Near DuQuoin

DuQuoin, Ill., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Unmoved by efforts of state and federal authorities to curb their activities, railroad bombers struck again last night, blasting two loaded coal cars on an Illinois Central coal train into a creek between DuQuoin and Mulketown, southeast of here.

It was the seventh railroad bombing since the first of the year and the second major blast within a week. Last Sunday flaming gasoline set off by a dynamite bomb destroyed eight freight cars and damaged four others of a Chicago & Illinois Midland train near Andrew, eight miles north of Springfield.

Last night's blast occurred between 10 and 11 P. M. on the east end of an Illinois Central bridge over Little Muddy creek, sending the two heavily loaded coal cars ahead of the caboose into the water.

Conductor Hurt.

Tommy Carlyle of Centralia, the conductor, suffered a gash on his head when the caboose also turned over but was saved from serious injury or perhaps death when the caboose, although balancing capriciously on the edge of the bridge failed to topple over.

Traffic on the line was tied up many hours while wrecking crews made repairs to the damaged rails and bridge.

The train was northbound with 52 loaded coal cars. Other members of the crew who escaped injury were: Louie Beebe, engineer; Kelly Creed, fireman and Eddie Randie, flagman, all of Centralia.

EDUCATORS ARE KEPT OFF BODY TO AID SCHOOLS

Lt. Gov. Donovan's Ignoring of Teachers
Stirs Senators

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 28.—(AP)—The senate's latest squabble today followed the failure of Lt. Thomas F. Donovan to appoint to the public school investigating commission the only two educators in the upper chamber's membership.

Five senators were to be named on the commission which is to include, in addition, five representatives and ten citizens at large. Omitted from the list which Donovan said he was appointing as senate members were Noah M. Mason, of Oglesby, and T. V. Smith, of Chicago.

Mason is Superintendent of Schools at Oglesby and is a past president of the Illinois State Teachers' Association. Dr. Smith is a professor of philosophy at the University of Chicago.

Refused Request.
Donovan refused the unanimous request of the Republican caucus that Mason be included as the minority party's representative on the commission, which is to recommend changes in the system of public school financing and administration.

In his stead he said he was appointing Earl B. Searcy of Springfield, the Republican floor leader. Searcy said he would refuse to accept the appointment so long as educators such as Mason and Smith were omitted from the commission.

Searcy and Simon E. Lantz of Congerville conveyed to Donovan the Republican request that Mason be named to the commission.

They reported that the lieutenant governor said that "for reasons which I cannot divulge I cannot comply with the request."

COMPROMISE WORK RELIEF BILL LIKELY

Proposed to Enable
President to Use His Own Discretion

Washington, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Negotiators in the Senate-White House $4,880,000,000 relief controversy today foresaw an early break in the deadlock over wages for relief workers as Democratic Leader Robinson planned to report to President Roosevelt on the fast developing maneuvers.

He offered an amendment to the McCarran proposal offered by Sen. Reynolds (D. N. C.), to permit the President to depart from the prevailing wage if he found "in any locality" it was "subversive of the maintenance or recovery of private industry or otherwise detrimental thereto."

Reynolds explained this would let the executive lower the wage if he found private employers were leaving their jobs to go on government payrolls. He contended it would "save" both sides in the controversy and embarrassment.

To Review Situation
Robinson, meanwhile, planned to see Roosevelt later today to review the relief situation.

Speaker Byrns predicted to newsmen the House would not accept a compromise cutting the $4,880,000,000 bill to $1,880,000,000 if it involved "continuation of the dole."

"I am still hopeful the Senate will pass the bill without the prevailing wage amendment," he said.

While awaiting the outcome of relief negotiations, Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, asked $80,000,000 of impounded public works funds to carry on direct aid to the needy for three weeks after March 1.

C. of C. With F. D. R.
Meanwhile Henry I. Harriman, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, came to the support of Roosevelt for his stand for security wages, while Henry H. C. H. director of the National Economy League, urged that Congress appropriate $1,000,000,000 for relief in the next fiscal year and "insist that the cities do their full part."

He said most cities are "lying down" on the Federal government. Compromise proposals were known to have been discussed at conferences called by Senator Wagner (D. N. Y.). Wagner was one of 44 Senators who joined in writing into the bill the McCarran amendment which would force the administration to pay prevailing wages instead of $50-a-month security wages planned by officials.

But some leaders were reported to be hoping that Wagner, arbiter in several tangles in the early days of NRA, would point the way toward some compromise acceptable to both the administration and the American Federation of Labor, which is backing the prevailing wage idea.

EL PASO, TEXAS IN GRIP OF BIG POWERWALKOUT

Population of 200,000 Feel Effects of Power House Strike

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 28.—(AP)—A power strike gripped El Paso today paralyzing many public utilities and 27 suburban communities with an aggregate population of 200,000.
At 1:30 A. M. CST, striking employees pulled switches and walked out of the central power plant of the El Paso Electric Company.
W. L. Ingram of Fort Worth, president of the International Brotherhood of Electric Workers, said 150 men were striking. Company sources said 450 other employees were not involved in the strike.
In several instances emergency power units were mobilized from Fort Bliss. Hospitals improvised candles from twisted gauze.
The absence of power temporarily affected the pumping of water to the municipal water works, but officials reported an ample water supply in the reservoir. Across the border in Juarez, Mexico, equipment cast aside many years ago was utilized to meet the emergency.
Ingram said differences between the power company and union members had existed since last August and the strike was called for recognition of the union, increased pay, and changed working conditions. No statement was immediately available from power company officials.

Air Mail Contracts Extended by Farley

Washington, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Despite President Roosevelt's recommendation that new air mail legislation should be passed before March 1, Congress was still a long way from this goal today.
Postmaster General Farley arranged today to extend temporarily seven air mail contracts which expire at midnight. The extensions will prolong the contracts, which expire at midnight, to various dates in May and June.
A bill embodying several of the points suggested by the administration was in the House committee on the post office and post roads after being introduced last Monday by Chairman Mead (D. N. Y.).

"What about the presidency?" he was asked. "Aren't you going to run for that?"
"That comes later," Long said, smiling broadly.

PHONE RECORD

PLAGUES MIKE, ALIAS "PRINCE"

Shows He Phoned Alleged "Framers" of Mrs. Wilma E. Gould

New York, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Mrs. Wilma E. Gould, who accuses "Prince Michael Romanoff" of "framing" her to give divorce evidence to her husband, plagued him today with telephone slips.
These slips, charged to a room occupied by Prince Mike at the Hotel Savoy-Plaza, were offered to a jury as evidence that the bogus prince was in communication with the men Mrs. Gould names in her $500,000 damage action.
Mike's role in the alleged frame-up, Mrs. Gould says, was that he drugged her, took her to his apartment, disrobed her and admitted a raiding party led by her husband, Edward Gould, Seneca, N. Y. manufacturer.

Others Named
In her conspiracy action, Mrs. Gould names her brother-in-law, former Representative Norman J. Gould; Elwood W. Kent, Jr., a lawyer; and Gerard Luisi, head of a detective agency.

Evidence offered in the telephone slips purported to show that Prince Mike had been in communication with the offices of both Kent and Luisi during the days he was paying most assiduous court to Mrs. Gould.

One slip recorded a call made from the room occupied by Prince Mike—whose real name is Harry Gerguson—at 10:41 P. M. of Feb. 10, 1931, the night Gould and others burst in upon him and Mrs. Gould.

This, and other slips, were identified by Helen Roach, supervisor of telephone operators at the Savoy Plaza.

ed theory" of constitutional law. Most new deal lawyers pinned their hopes for an ultimate NRA victory on the power given congress to regulate interstate commerce by this section of the constitution.

"The congress shall have power x x x to regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several states and with the Indian tribes."

Although the government failed to convince Judge Nichols that manufacturing is a step in interstate commerce, NRA's legal chief evidenced confidence that the supreme court will rule differently.

Speculation On Hill
There was speculation on Capitol Hill as to the possible effect of the decisions on renewal of NRA. In line with President Roosevelt's desires, and on demands in the senate for one big investigation of the recovery administration before any new law is enacted.

The blows against regulation of industry came at a time when the New Deal was busy defending itself against formidable legal threats in several quarters.

Judge W. I. Grubb of Alabama recently provided material for an early supreme court test on NRA, and also has ruled that the government has no right to sell surplus electricity developed by its plants in the Tennessee Valley.

PLACING RUTH IN LINEUP IS VEXING PILOT

Bambino Wants To Get Into Lineup as New First Sacker

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 28.—(AP)—There's one major problem concerning Babe Ruth that worries Bill McKechnie, manager of the Braves, now that he's acquired the greatest slugger in baseball history. What position will the Bambino play?
It's an open secret that Ruth, who started as a left hand pitcher, developed into a great defensive outfielder as well as a pulverizing clouter, always has longed to play first base.

Reilly Cries "Injustice"
"A great injustice has been done," said Reilly.
"The man who is guilty should be hung, drawn and quartered. But that man is not Bruno Richard Hauptmann."

"Somewhere in the United States, scoffing at the law enforcement authorities, is the real kidnaper."
"Fortunately," the lawyer declared, "there is a higher tribunal where 15 judges will pass on his case."

"If that unfortunate carpenter went to his death there are millions who would still believe the kidnaper is somewhere laughing at the authorities."

Mrs. Hauptmann brought a message from the death house at Trenton, N. J. She told her hearers that Hauptmann sent his thanks to "all who can feel for us."

The rally was held in Yorkville, center of New York's German-born population, which in 1930 totaled more than 237,000.
Each person admitted was charged 25 cents and a box two feet square was piled almost a foot deep with contributions, some of them $20 bills.

In telling of the appeal plans, Reilly said, "I challenge anyone to show that Bruno Hauptmann was even in New Jersey that night."

He was loudly cheered and applauded, while each reference to Colonel Lindbergh and to New Jersey's Attorney General, David T. Wilentz, who prosecuted the carpenter, was greeted with boos and jeers.

Hauptmann sits sullen and close-mouthed in a death house cell, a solitary figure in what may or may not be the concluding act of the tragic drama of the kidnapping and murder of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.

Third Anniversary.
It was on the night of March 1, 1932, that the news flashed out that the blonde, curly-haired baby had been snatched from his crib in the second-floor nursery of the Lindbergh home at Hopewell. Hauptmann was convicted on Feb. 13, 1935.

Never since his arrest in the Bronx last September has Hauptmann conceded he had the slightest part in the crime.

"I am innocent," were the last words he uttered before the death house doors closed behind him.
The state of New Jersey, which put a web of circumstantial evidence around him, contends Hauptmann alone engineered the crime and the ransom negotiations.

In answer, Hauptmann has stuck to his story that the ransom money found in his possession was left him by a dead business partner, Isidor Fisch.

by Joseph Fort Newton.)

"BEHOLD the last Democrat!" said Jack Jones, as Uncle Abner came in for a chat. "The only specimen in captivity, and the species is extinct. He still believes in proving truth by counting noses."

"Yes, I'm a Democrat," Uncle Abner admitted, "and I'm not ashamed to own it. I believe in democracy, and when we've got over all this madness, I am sure we shall come back to it, sadder but wiser."

"Some faith, that!" said Jones. "In face of facts that lie right under your nose. There is not the least chance of it. Democracy rests upon the theory that man is a rational political animal, and no animal exists. That's the truth of the business, and no denying it."

"Freud has shown us," he went on, "that it is the irrational that drives us—and it does. There is no escape from violence, you see. It's the nature of the brute, and we cannot get away from nature."

"I see," said Uncle Abner. "Of course, if man is a brute and nothing else, that is the end of it. You believe in a carefully thought-out philosophy of the irrational! How delightful! Anything else?"

"Yes, there is," said Jones. "We talk about a better community, but it simply isn't happening. We are just a lot of groups, parties, sects, classes, fighting each other for the wage. If democracy can't make us behave and get somewhere, we will have to try something else that will."

"What else?" asked Uncle Abner. "If water chokes, what are we to drink? Really, I ought to give you a straight right between the eyes, and then pat you on the back with my left hand. But I won't."

"Listen, neighbor," Uncle Abner added. "All this talk about the rule of the irrational is the bunk. The whole story of man is the story of getting away from the irrational and learning some sense."

"The trouble is we have lost our nerve as well as our standards, and because there are no rules of the game, all we know how to do is to knock each other on the head, but that is horn-eyed stupidity."

"By democracy I mean a sense of the common good which commands the loyalty of us all. You just wait; it will come back!"

Humoring Spoiled Child Is Bad Idea

By Olive Robert Barton

What is a spoiled child? Strange how that name came to be selected in describing the little boy or girl who is all he shouldn't be and nothing that he should.

The sobriquet relieves him of responsibility and puts it on others. He is a result of something when "spoiled." It means that care has not been taken to save the good.

Someone said of George Washington, "I do not think Washington was so wonderful. I think his father was wonderful for producing and developing such a boy."

And so it is with us. Our children reflect their handling. If they are fine they reflect us. If they are spoiled they also reflect us.

Children are supposed to be happy to grow up normally and well. This is true, absolutely, so long as we don't confuse happiness with excitement. Real happiness depends as much upon ability to accept things as they come as upon the gratification of wishes.

Unhappy Time Ahead
The spoiled child who has been humored, who has never learned to take disappointment, who cannot bear obedience is someday going to be about as unhappy as it is possible to be. If he cannot conform to ups and downs when he is very young, no miracle is going to smooth his path later.

Therefore it is good and wholesome for our small friend of three, four or five to have his miniature experiences of discipline.

When a child won't let his mother go without a scene, it is time to give him an object lesson. As long as he is safe and cared for there is everything to the idea that he can live without her. She needs no excuses or promises. No tearful partings. No sneaking out the back way. Just a cheerful good bye and a walkaway. It is not any too easy for the one left with him, but after a few days he will protest less.

It is just as well to make the first absences short. Of course, some mothers cannot get away, ever, so that is a different story. The comfort is that when Bobby starts to school he will be more philosophical about parting. The fact in itself is not serious unless there is evidence of a "fixation."

It is more important as one means of developing independence and standing disappointment.

Expected Needs, Set-Back
The child constantly loaded with new toys, who expects a new present each day, is another who should have some set-backs for the good of his soul. Break that habit. Nothing is worse than surfeit. Why rob him of the thrill of a gift? The quickest way to sour any child or any person, is to overload him. It is mistaken kindness at best.

Make home life gay and cheerful, but insist on him conforming to house routine and his personal schedule. Don't give in repeatedly to his whines and squalls. If this method has produced results for him before.

Make him give in to other children much of the time. Try to begin little lessons of sportsmanship. He has to learn what "rights" are. He need not be an easy mark and has a right of his own, but he should see the other side, too.

The mother can work wonders by quiet firmness and a happy, cheerful attitude. It does not pay to let a child become a tyrant and then adopt a hopeless complaining attitude ourselves. Some children are stronger willed than others. Often it takes diplomacy to handle them. Do not try to reform the already spoiled child all at once. It may only increase open rebellion. But make a beginning. Now is the best time.

Dollar Day Has Come and Gone
Dollar Day has come and gone, and for the greater part was a most successful day. Our merchants put before the buying public many bargains, which were appreciated. So ends dollar day until next August. And Valentine Day is again a thing of the past.

Easter Sunday, April 21st
The next day of paramount interest will be Easter Day, for it will be here April 21st, and it is late this year.

The Dixon stores are full of spring merchandise, ladies' infant's

We print the following with apologies to Joyce Kilmer who wrote "Trees."
Revised Version of "Trees,"
(Close to Highways)

I think that I shall never see,
Along the road, an unscrapped tree

With bark intact, and painted white,
That no car ever hit at night.

For every tree that's near the road,
Has caused some auto to be towed.

Sidewiping trees is done a lot
By drivers who are not so hot.

God gave them eyes so they could see,
Yet any fool can hit a tree.

"Yes"—"Yes, we have it for sale."
—"Well we thought we'd ask $10 but we would take eight."

Current News of Dixon Girl Scouts

Eighteen girls were present at the Monday meeting of Troop IV, at the North Central school. The popular game of "Charades" was played with much enthusiasm, and a new song was learned. "Come out, Come out, Come out!" Twelve of the girls are busy preparing themselves to be invested as Tenderfoot Scouts, in two weeks. At present there are four study groups; one for the very new girls, another for the girls who are to be invested, a third for girls who are working on their second class requirement of signalling and a fourth for girls working on the First Aid requirement for the second class badge.

Mrs. Stewart Netts talked to the latter group Monday and found that the girls are already well informed on First Aid problems. The girls are enjoying Mrs. Leo Dixon, who is a new lieutenant of the troop.

Much interest has been shown in the chart, recently posted, which shows the girls what requirements they have passed and those which they yet have to work for.

The meeting was closed by singing "Softly Fades the Light of Day."

Troop II of the Dixon Girl Scouts held their weekly meeting Wednesday afternoon at the E. C. Smith school.

Miss Edna Johnson, R. N. of Dixon, visited the troop and gave the girls instruction for their first aid work.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, March 6th.

Troop V held their weekly meeting Tuesday, Feb. 26. Attendance by the patrols was taken by the patrol leaders, Catherine Reis and Mary Jane Ritchie. Dues were collected by the Scout Treasurer, Alice Countryman.

A formal color ceremony followed, including the customary pledge of allegiance to the flag. Mary Jane Ritchie made the announcements and it was decided to hold meetings on Monday afternoons hereafter.

The Scouts then went to their own study groups, including color study and nature study. The singing of "Taps" concluded the meeting.

Brownie Pack No. 2 met Wednesday afternoon at the South Central school. As it was a small meeting choosing of the new "sixers" was postponed. Our Easter-time plants were cared for and our future flower show was discussed. Games were played, among them two water relays. Tawney Owl brought us back from London on the magic carpet.

The Brownies of the Woodworth school met Tuesday afternoon. Games were played and an interesting item was that each Brownie was to keep a record of her helpfulness at home and the care of herself for ten weeks—sort of an everyday Brownie book. The Brownie laws were reviewed.

After supper Mrs. Ware, president of the Corps, announced that the Patriotic Instructor, Mrs. Auman, had charge of the patriotic program which followed, honoring George Washington's birthday.

YEAR'S BEST STARS

Hollywood, Calif., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Claudette Colbert and Clark Gable were acclaimed by the movie world today for the best acting performance on the screen in 1934.

The two, co-started in "It Happened One Night," were singled out for the honor in annual awards voted last night by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. Other film notables were tendered awards for acting, directing, producing, song writing and other outstanding achievements in the industry the past year.

"Greatest applause from the thousand of the film colony's elite who attended the academy's annual banquet, however, was reserved for little Shirley Temple, who received a special award.

The picture "It Happened One Night," a cleverly-fashioned, but simply-told story of a boy and a girl, was the vehicle on which others besides Miss Colbert and Gable rode to acclaim.

Well written, it brought the year's screen writing award to Robert Riskin; well-directed, it brought the directing award to Frank Capra; and well-produced, it brought the production award to Columbia Studios.

Eight of Dixon and Mrs. Dewey Kinn of Freeport, were hostesses. There were guests for three tables, Miss Betty Zarger being awarded first prize, Miss Mae Teschendorf second, and Miss Gladys Ambrose, consolation. During the evening Miss James received many pretty and useful gifts, accompanied by the best wishes of the donors. Fifty refreshments completed the enjoyment of the guests.

STRANGE EVENTS MAKE A STRANGE WORLD
Helping the winter along toward spring, folks in Sudbury, Ont., have found an apple tree in blossom at the bottom of a 600-foot mine. Meanwhile, city authorities in Cleveland, O., announce that they can't collect the taxpayers' ashes because they are too busy removing snow from the streets, and simultaneously a dust storm hits Kansas.

H. L. Mencken invites Commonwealth College to move from Mena, Ark., to Baltimore, Md., to preserve academic freedom, a freshman at Brown University wins an intercollegiate championship by eating 29 doughnuts in 18 minutes and 50 seconds, and an Indiana college instructor is arrested on charges of kidnapping himself and holding himself for ransom.

Senator Bilbo of Mississippi turns up in the Senate with a black eye and Huey Long appears with a bandaged finger on his left hand, thus leading to official denials that the two mishaps were in any way connected.

The bandmaster of the Kansas state penitentiary, himself a convict, persuades the warden to send him to town to get some new music, and forgets to come back, leaving the band musicless and leaderless.

An Indiana manufacturer of bows and arrows says that the American Indian was really an extraordinary poor archer, and Andy Mellon's confidential secretary testifies that Mr. Mellon lost nearly $3,000,000 selling stocks to himself in 1931 and 1932.

Meanwhile, the citizens of Jasper, Alberta, call a meeting to discuss the town's need of an ambulance, and one of the moving spirits falls down on the way to the gathering, breaks an arm, and has to be lugged off to the hospital on a stretcher.

Crime raises its ugly head in Chicago anew. A canary bird is kidnaped from Holy Cross hospital, and a detective discovers that erstwhile auto thieves have turned to stealing baby carriages, finding the traffic in hot autos too dangerous.

The Prince of Wales is mobbed on the streets of Vienna by the biggest crowd of women seen in one spot since the days of Vienna's great Socialist mass meeting, and 300 people jam the concourse of Cleveland's Union Terminal to say hello to Kate Smith.

A Hungarian count has challenged 13 residents of Budapest to duels, on the ground that they insulted his wife by throwing her out of their club when they caught her cheating at cards.

And then, to cap the climax, a New York woman goes to a hospital with a stomachache, attributing it to something she ate. A doctor operates on her and removes from her stomach 224 pins, pieces of bed springs, links of auto tire chains, a set of rubber bands, and bits of broken glass.

WORK IS FIRST REQUIREMENT

Secretary Ickes makes a good point by informing the Senate munitions committee that PWA funds spent on naval construction produce less employment than a good many other public works undertakings.

This statement has some significance in view of the fact that the PWA has allotted some $238,000,000 to naval construction.

The issue here is not whether we need more warships. Considering the uncertain state of international relations, a great many citizens will feel more comfortable when our fleets are built up to treaty strength.

But if we are to do that, why should we not make straightforward appropriations of the money needed, in the customary fashion?

Money for public works is supposed, primarily, to increase employment. If naval construction is not an especially good way of attaining that goal, it might be wise to allot the money somewhere else.

RELIEF IS MOST URGENT

Whatever is ultimately done about the security program in Washington—whether we get an outright dole, a system of unemployment insurance, or something else—we should not let ourselves forget that the problem is an exceedingly pressing one.

For instance: Chicago police were obliged to take eight hungry children under their protection after they had found the children burning the furniture in their home to keep warm.

The father, desperate over his family's plight, had committed a theft and had been put in jail; the mother had died in a hospital from complications over another expectant childbirth.

Grant that the heads of this family mismanaged their affairs somewhat—there still remains an unbearably tragic picture. Whatever form our relief program takes, it must at least make repetitions of such pitiful cases impossible.

A man can out-trade me once, but he can not continue to do business on that basis. I trade on the basis of "what's fair to me and what's fair to you."—John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

The movies feed on the brains of story writers and dramatists and they also now look to the stage for most of their best actors. The result may well be a drying up.—Walter Prichard Eaton, playwright-critic.

A dizzy marital quadrangle, with alleged swapping of wives and husbands, involving two wealthy Beverly Hills couples, with somebody always getting into the wrong bedroom, is the bewildering puzzle facing Judge Ben Lindsey in his Los Angeles court. Accusing his long-time best friend, Barton Sewell, upper left, of an affair with Mrs. Emerson, upper right, Walter Emerson, actor, lower right, is suing for divorce. Mrs. Emerson, fighting the suit, accuses Emerson of misconduct with Mrs. Sewell, lower left, and she in turn has sued Mrs. Emerson for $100,000 alienation balm. The giant, who'd been tickled at night up and shouted, "Why do that? You woke me from a real nice dream. I can't go back to sleep."

"That's fine," said Goldy. "Stay awake. We're ready now to have you take us to your home. You can't do that, when you're in slumber deep."

"You promised us, because we found your boot, that you would show us round. We all grew tired of waiting while you snoozed and snored real loud."

"I figured you were ticklish, so I tickled you, as you well know. Now we will do whatever you say. We are a willing crowd."

Just then we Scouty shouted, "Hark! I think I heard a real strange bark." The giant smiled and said, "Oh, that's my funny 'Til' whistle and he'll come to me, and then a strange sight you will see. It took me years to train the beast to follow me around."

The whistle brought the hound in sight, and little Doty Tynmite exclaimed, "Why that's the beast we saw when we were in the tree."

"He barked and then he went away. With him I'd really like to play, if he is tame, and you are sure that he won't snap at me."

"Why, say that hound's a friendly sort. With him you'll have a lot of sport. In fact, I'll let you ride him," said the giant, with a grin.

The strange hound wagged his tail a bit and Copsy said "Gee, look at that. Its friendship, you can see, is quite an easy thing to win."

In just moment both the girls hopped on its back. Now, if he whirled around, be sure that you don't fall," the friendly giant said.

And then the others heard him say, "Come on, you lads were on our way. It will not take us long to reach my house. It's straight ahead."

THEY'RE SAFE-IN AN ALL-STEEL BODY

—a feature of the big, rugged New-Value Dodge

THE first Dodge car ever built had an all-steel body. It wasn't chance . . . it wasn't "climbing on a bandwagon" that led Dodge to the safety of the all-steel body. It was progressive engineering, the urge to pioneer, to lead and not follow in vital, important automobile improvements.

These Dodge bodies have been tested and proved by owners for over 20 years, everywhere, in constant daily use. Dodge not only pioneered the all-steel body but has constantly perfected it over the years.

So, too, with hydraulic brakes. First introduced by Dodge many years ago, Dodge has constantly developed them. Today, Dodge gives you hydraulic brakes that are long past the experimental stage. For in Dodge you get perfected, dual-cylinder hydraulic brakes—safer, more dependable, more economical than other types.

Now Dodge pioneers again the "Air-glide Ride", in which you speed smoothly along with new comfort, skimming over bumps without a tremor or jar, taking the curves safely, without sideways. Another new contribution to motoring ease is "Synchro-matic Control", which makes driving unbelievably easy and effortless.

You'll recognize this Dodge as a prize beauty the minute you see it. But you must drive it to see how far ahead of others it is in power and speed, comfort and economy, safety and performance.

A perfectly planned and appointed buffet dinner was then served consisting of veal, escalloped potatoes, buttered peas, carrots, and pineapple salad on lettuce leaf, buttered rolls, stuffed olives, coffee, ice cream, chocolate wafers.

Mrs. Raymond Syverud, the adviser, gave the afternoon lesson on serving buffet lunches referring to the one just enjoyed as an excellent example. She explained the origin of the buffet meal. The different factors to be considered in the selection of the food to make a well-balanced meal, its appearance, cost, the most convenient arrangement, service to a group of seated dishes, and the formal, semi-formal, and informal type of buffet lunch. She pointed out that the word buffet is more correct and infinitely preferable to the cafeteria form of service commonly called scramble potluck or picnic. At the business session twelve members responded to roll call with a quotation from Longfellow. There were five visitors. The unit will meet with Mrs. S. E. Dishong in March.

The town basketball team defeated the Dixon State Hospital 42-38 Thursday night. They will continue.

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. August Bohn and family caught fire Saturday about 11 o'clock probably from defective chimney. The Amboy fire truck arrived there shortly after and with the aid of the neighbors did very effective work in combating the flames, confining them to the roof of the house. The contents of the home were carried out and saved. Mr. Bohn was in Dixon at the time the fire broke out and was hastily summoned home. It is certainly a cold time of year to have the inconvenience of a fire.

Thure Mortenson went to Chicago with Russell Hill in his stock truck Monday. He hopes to find a good office position there.

Gus Heingeroth of Fargo, N. D., and George Lenered of Mendota visited at the Fred Meyer home Monday.

Justice W. H. Wellman and son Howard attended the Golden Gloves boxing tournament in Streator, Wednesday.

February 22, the Lee Center high school basketball team and the grade school team went to Lee to play return games. The grades lost their game by a score of 14 to 7. The high school was somewhat more fortunate in so far as the size of the score is concerned but lost the hotly contested game to their opponents by just one point; the final score being 13 to 12. Lee was quite lucky in making good its free throws while Lee Center was not.

The first quarter of the game was all in favor of Lee Center ending with the score being 7 to 1. In the second quarter Lee came back with three field goals to tie the score with 7 and 7 at the half. During the last half of the game Lee Center chalked up only five points, two of them due to a sort of freak shot by L. Hanneman. Lee, in this part of the game, chalked up six points to win the game.

Lee Center's line up for the game was L. Hanneman and S. Mortenson, forwards; P. White, center; D. Bohn and H. Donnelly, guards. No substitutions were made by Lee Center.

Helen Eaton is back in school having recovered from a case of scarlet fever.

TALL MEN RULE FAVORITES ON PREP QUINTS

West Aurora, Elgin Have Rangy, Tall Players

—This, the fourth of a series on state high school basketball, discusses the style of play of various teams in the championship drive.

Champaign, Feb. 28.—(AP)—This is the day of the big man in basketball. Speed and skill have not been put aside altogether, but more than ever the high school coaches are leaning toward the tall, rangy type of basketball players.

Typical of this trend is the West Aurora team, which uses a fast break and zone defense featuring a six-foot, four-inch center, Reising, and another lad, Plente, who is dead on one-hand pivot shots from underneath the basket. Aurora is just reaching its peak and is probably in the best shape of any northern team at this point.

Taller even than West Aurora are the Elgin Maroons, recently christened the "Towers" because their starting five average six-two in height. The Towers have slumped since they lost their defensive star, Geister, and will have to snap out of it soon if they expect to win district and sectional tournaments.

No Mass Height
Galesburg does not have the mass height like Elgin and West Aurora but the "Silver Streaks," as they are called because of their speed, are very well with three tall boys and two midget guards who are sure shots from out on the floor.

A tight semi-zone defense and fast block plays have been responsible for Galesburg's success though many people are inclined to underestimate them because of the lack of competition on their schedule. If Peria Manual, another of the state's best prep teams, should meet Galesburg in sectional play, it will be a game worth going miles to see.

Deerfield is big and hunky and rules the Suburban league, and while in that area I want to call attention to Morton High of Cicero, the state champion of 1932. Morton stumbled through the first half of the season but recovered brilliantly to beat Deerfield, Oak Park, and Proviso in its last three starts. Surely this team will be hard to handle in tournament play.

Probably the most underrated team is Rockford. Steadily improving with each game, this well-balanced team gave Elgin and West Aurora all they could handle. Rockford might win the Prepost sectional if Elgin is not assigned there.

Thornton Has Flashes
The front line of Boudreau, McCormick, and Hellman still flash down the floor for Thornton high of Harvey, but the former state champs lack a strong defense in their battle to regain the crown. Still they'll be in the thick of the district and sectional warfare.

Peekin is another team with a six-foot, four-inch center, Grant, but Mr. Pulaski tops that with six-foot, seven-inch Charles Wagner. Moline's team is big.

Fast and clever teams like Havana and Farmington have played some good basketball but it's hard to see how they can go far against teams which tower above them so much.

THREE CUE STARS STILL RUNNING FOR FINAL WIN

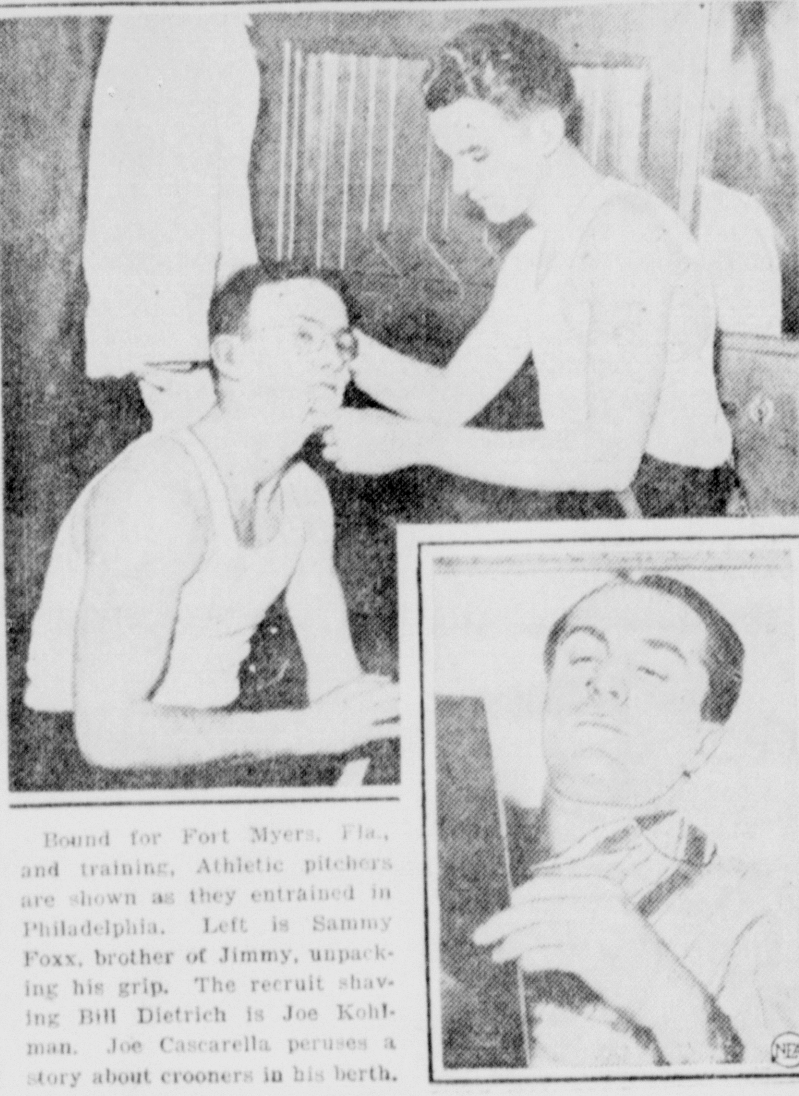

Billiards Tourney has Reached Third Day of Play

Chicago, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The big three, Percy Collins of Chicago, Edgar T. Appleby of New York, and Edmund Soussa of Egypt, were still running head and head today as the national amateur 18.2 ballline billiards tournament went into the third day of play.

All won their second straight victories yesterday. Collins, the defending titleholder, trounced Ray Essenden of Madison, Wis., 300 to 138 in 26 innings in the night match, and Appleby turned in a new high mark for the tournament, 47, in smothering Seymour Kling of New York 300 to 125 in 25 innings. Soussa, making his first bid for the championship, easily defeated Tom Morgan of Kansas City 300 to 109, in 25 innings.

Action speeded up today with four matches on the program instead of the customary three. Morgan and Kling were matched in the first afternoon game, with Appleby trying for his third triumph against Ray Schapp of Chicago in the second daylight match. Collins meets Morgan and Soussa tackles Essenden in the night events.

TO SEMI-FINALS

Elwood McReynolds, flashy colored middleweight boxer of this city who has appeared in numerous bouts before local fans, made his way to the semi-finals of the Chicago Tribune Golden Glove boxing tournament last evening. It is not Elwood's first appearance in the Stadium ring at Chicago in the annual classic as he has previously aspired for honors, but this is his best advance thus far.

Elwood, who is a member of the Dayton, Ohio, team, was matched against Wes Phelps of Davenport, Iowa. It was a fast and hard bout as reported over the radio from the ring-side, both aspirants appearing as well trained and clever boxers. Phelps made McReynolds miss the most, but the Dixon boy's aggressiveness gained the final point verdict of the judges. Elwood will continue limited training for the finals to be held at the Chicago Stadium on the evening of March 3.

BABE'S COMING IS OCCASION FOR JUBILEE

Emil Fuchs Dramatizes Signing of the Big Bambino

Boston, Feb. 28.—(AP)—It will be in a new theater, under a different producer and with a changed supporting cast, but the same old leading man will be under the spotlight tonight when the curtain rolls up on the 1935 version of baseball's favorite melodrama, "The Signing of Babe Ruth."

During the super-stars' 15-year Broadway run, his openings gradually lost their gay and festive touches and became something that resembled a serious problem drama. But Mr. Ruth's new impresario, Emil Fuchs of the Boston Braves, has a much more lusty sense of the theater than Producer Ruppert of the New York Yankees.

During recent years that highly successful showman gave a sort of skimpy opening, a one scene affair, a desk and two chairs setting with few, if any, stogees, backstage. And none can say that Mr. Ruth did not give his customary excellent performance.

Drama Has 3 Acts
Realizing that it is a homecoming event for the Babe, producer Fuchs has "spotted" his elaborate production for three acts with as many scenes, including the super-moment arrival at the railroad station, amid the cheers of the populace, and that old time bit of sure-fire, the stupendous and colorful street parade, positively, rain or shine.

With it definitely understood that he will become manager of the Braves in 1936, the Babe will arrive here at 5:40 P. M., waited upon by thousands of his admirers, headed by the Mayor and his official family. Then he will make his way through the vast crowd, behind a large police escort, to the street, where he will join a large motor cavalcade, that will parade to a back bay hotel.

Act 2 will find him in the grand ballroom, greeting hundreds of other admirers and then will come the terrific climax, the actual signing of a three-year contract, that makes him assistant manager to Bill McKechnie, second vice president, a position that is outranked only by those of President Fuchs and Chairman Adams, first vice president, and pro-

AMBOY LEGION BEATS KNACKS BY 28-24 COUNT

Game Cleanly Played in Amboy Opera House Last Evening

Amboy's fighting Legionnaires turned in their first victory over a Dixon independent quint last night by downing the Knacks Leaders, 28 to 24 after a hard-fought battle.

The game, one of the cleanest played on the Amboy floor this season, held the crowd spellbound from start to finish with its brilliant play. Although the Knacks were handicapped somewhat by the small floor, the Amboyites found the Blues about the stiffest opposition they have met this year.

For the Legionnaires, Reinboth continued the sparkplug of the offensive. He sank four buckets and garnered a quartet of key shots totalling twelve points. Gays was the luminary of the Leaders aggregation. He snared three field goals and two free throws. His nearest competitor was "Two" Carlson. The blond ace sank a trio of baskets.

Referring the contest was Coach Dominetta of Amboy high school, and he did an excellent job it was reported by the Knack's men this morning.

ARCHER TALKS AT DEMOLAYS' BIRTH DINNER

Local Order Holds Anniversary Banquet

Nearly two hundred DeMolays and their fathers assembled at a birthday banquet commemorating the founding of the Dixon chapter six years ago, at the Brinton Masonic Temple Wednesday night.

Laverne T. Ryder, president of the National Homecraft Guild, delivered an address and gave a demonstration of archery.

council member since the founding of the local order six years ago.

Awards Given

Awards were presented to Robert Thompson, Gilbert Frase, Ray Worth and Albert Kennedy for obtaining the most new members to the order. Leslie Marshall, George Campbell, Louis Schumm, Jack Little, Robert Miller, Hubert Auman, Lloyd Miller, William Schrock, James Naylor, Wayne Sutter and George Walters were given recognition buttons as new members.

Arnold Schultz, president of the local Homecraft Guild then introduced Mr. Ryder, of Rockford.

The speaker said homecraft clubs exist in all parts of the world and also archery sportsmen. The purpose of homecraft work, he claimed, is the development of the individual's special hobby. He declared the fun of archery lies in the making of equipment as well as in the shooting. He told his interested audience that archery is the oldest game in history. In reviewing its history he traced it from the days of the Romans and Turks to the present day. He outlined use of bows and arrows as war weapons and explained how archery was transformed into a pastime by the English which aided its modern development.

Classes Next to swimming

Mr. Ryder classed archery as next to swimming for exercise because it develops every muscle in the body. He classified the types of arrows for big and small game shooting and their tremendous force upon contact with their targets. He compared the types of woods used for the making of bows indicating that lemonwood and American ewe were perhaps the most desirable. He said the life of a lemonwood bow is approximately two years.

Other woods were exhibited and their advantages explained, especially the bows with improvements designed to prevent kicking.

The speaker said the world's record for arrow flight is 850 yards, established by the ancient Turks. In flight shooting, he emphasized that flight shooting is so radically different from target shooting, that specialists in either cannot change their department, and continue proficient in both styles. He exploded the myth that Indians were exceptionally good archers. He also discounted the common theory that steel bows are more satisfactory than wood for accuracy.

Mr. Ryder concluded his talk by a demonstration of equipment for the archer in action, the proper form, and the actual shooting.

Springfield's Former Mayor to be Taken to Hospital for Tests

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 27—(AP)—John S. Schnepf, former mayor of Springfield who was arrested in Los Angeles two weeks ago, is under indictment today for embezzling $20,258 from the Mary Ettinger estate in 1931.

The special grand jury late yesterday indicted Schnepf on three counts, alleging he embezzled a check for $20,258 while acting as conservator of the estate, converted the money to his own use and embezzled the proceeds of the estate.

Further indictments will be considered when the regular grand jury meets next month, said State's Attorney A. E. Greening.

Schnepf is expected to be returned here sometime Friday and later taken to Jacksonville to undergo mental tests to determine whether his lapse of memory is genuine.

On the above Fisherman's Calendar the best days for fishing are indicated by a solid black fish, days not so good by a partially black fish, and poor days for fishing by a white fish. This calendar is scientifically compiled, using the moon, the signs, and every known factor that has a bearing on fishing as used by the "Old Timer," as well as the modern Sportman. Use discretion in selecting your fishing days—do not go when it is windy, tide against you, or the water muddy—but select comparatively calm days when the fish shows solid black and you will find the calendar to be surprisingly accurate for both inland and deep sea fishing, and for any waters in or surrounding the United States and Canada.

PETER UNMASKED FALSEHOOD

TEXT: Acts 5:16, 8:18-24.
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for March 3.
By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
(Editor of Advance.)

The story of Ananias and Sapphira has taken rather firm hold in human interest. It is unfortunately true that mankind is wont to take a more apparent interest in a great liar than in a great truth teller, though I suppose it is not quite true that mankind is more interested in falsehood than in truth.

People refer to a great liar today as an "Ananias" though Ananias was something more than a liar. The fact is that Ananias is perhaps more closely related to most persons than they realize, because his deep sin was not in telling an untruth, but in professing to be something that he was not and to be doing something that he was not doing.

A wave of fine social enthusiasm had swept over these early Christians, destroying distinctions of wealth and rank, making those who were well to do, ready to minister to the needs of those who lacked—a sort of Christian Communism, very noble for those like Barnabas, who could enter it earnestly and sincerely, but difficult for those whose souls were not purified and enriched with the spirit of unselfishness.

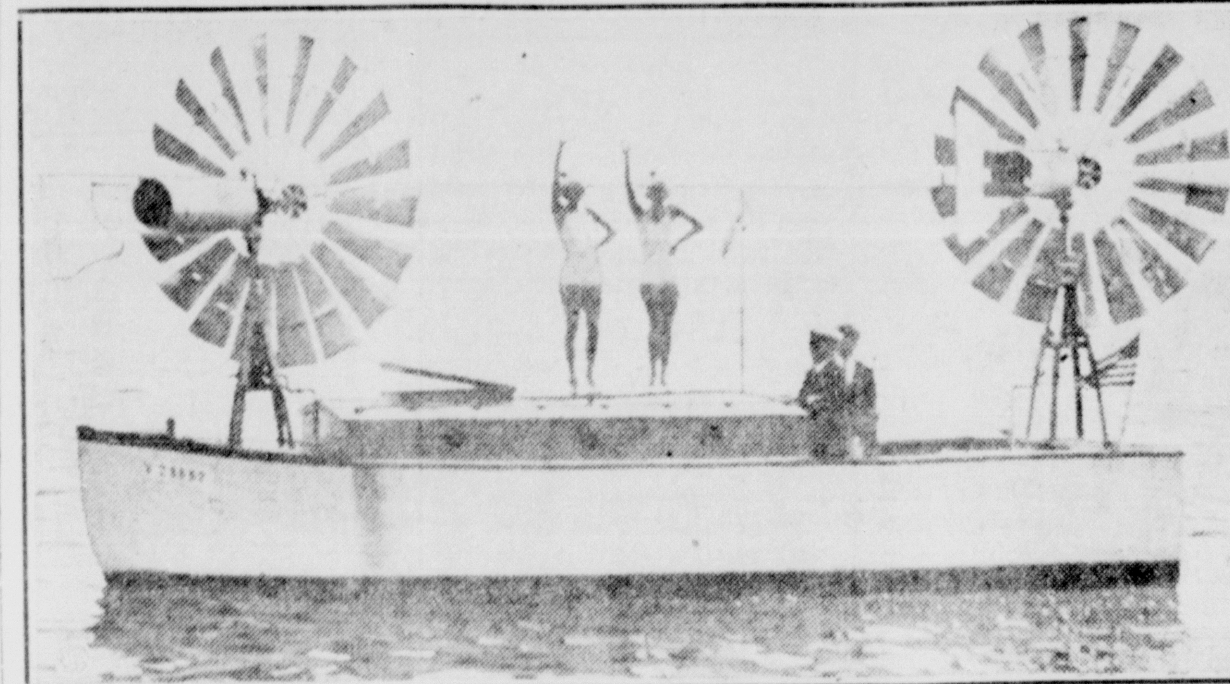

The tendency in all such situations is for ideals to become dominant and exacting in such way that individuals who have not undergone the necessary experience that enables them to respond naturally and sincerely are, nevertheless, too weak to express their dissent.

So they profess to live according to the ideal while the reality of their lives is very different. This is what Ananias and Sapphira, his wife, possessing property, did not say as they might have said, "We are not willing to give all this as others are giving." Instead, they professed to be giving it all, but they actually kept back part of the price.

They came having their gifts at the apostles' feet, professing to yield their all, where they were withholding much for themselves. The condemnation in our lesson was not because they did not give it up, but because, as Peter said to them, they had lied to the Holy Spirit. The property was theirs; while they had it, it was in their power. But when they professed to give it to purposes of the church, and keep it

Robert Fulton pioneered steam navigation, but one of his descendants, Palmer H. Cray, utilizes old-fashioned wind to propel this newfangled craft at Miami, Fla. The breeze turns the windmills, which operate air pumps, which compress air in a tank below decks. The compressed air, in turn, operates an engine, which turns a propeller, which makes the boat go. Complicated, but it works.

For themselves, it became a different matter, and who imagined that it could be bought with money.

The sin of this Simon the magician, was the sin of those who try to commercialize religion, who take the holy things that ought to be above all self-interest and profit and turn them to their own base ends. Against all such Ananiases and Sapphiras and Simons, one must set the beauty and integrity of true Christian character and action, the beauty of supreme and self-sacrificing devotion. The heart and glory of the Christian witness must never be compromised by regard for those who fail to live up to their profession. It is not by the failure of men.
